THE SCOPE AND METHODS OF THE PUBLIC ACCOUNTS

The Nature and Format of the Public Accounts

The Nature of the Public Accounts

The Public Accounts of Canada is the annual financial report of the Government of Canada prepared by the Receiver General for Canada as required by Section 55 of the Financial Administration Act. The report covers the financial transactions of the Government during the fiscal year under review even although the Parliamentary authority to undertake these transactions was, in many cases, provided by legislation approved in earlier years. In addition, it includes the accounts of those crown corporations and other bodies which are maintained separately from the accounts of Canada. The financial year of a number of these corporations is the calendar year rather than the fiscal year of the Government that ends on March 31.

The Format of the Public Accounts

The Public Accounts is produced in three volumes. Volume I contains:

—A brief outline of the principal features of the Government's financial statements and accounting system;
—A summary of the highlights of the Government's financial operations during the fiscal year then ended, including revenue and expenditure on a National Accounts basis;
—A review of budgetary revenue, expenditure and the surplus for the fiscal year, with comments on the significant aspects of the more important items;
—An analysis of non-budgetary transactions;
—A summary of the financing operations of the Government and their effect on the unmatured debt and the cash position of the Government;
—Statements of the expenditures, revenues, assets and liabilities of Canada certified by the Auditor General;
—A statement of the contingent liabilities of Canada.

It also includes:

—Summaries of appropriations and expenditures for each department;
—The statements required by the Financial Administration Act to be published in the Public Accounts;
—A number of supporting schedules and statements.

Volume II reviews the financial statements of departments in finer detail. For each department, this volume presents:

—Appropriations, expenditures and unexpended balances;
—The total cost of each program;
—An analysis of expenditures by programs;
—An analysis of expenditures by standard objects;
—An analysis of expenditures by activities within a program;
—A statement of the grants, contributions and other transfer payments made;
—A statement of revenues collected;
—A summary of all receipts and outlays and any special accounts maintained.

Volume II also provides a range of additional information, by departments, on items such as:

—Accounts receivable;
—Payments for professional and special services;
—The construction and the acquisition of machinery, equipment, land, buildings, and works.

Volume III includes the financial statements of crown corporations which keep their own accounts, together with the reports of their auditors.

The Government's Accounting System

The practices described in what follows have developed over a number of years and reflect the provisions of the British North America Act and other legislation. They have, however, been under review by an interdepartmental committee preparing a "Study of the Accounts of Canada" and consisting of representatives of the Treasury Board, the Department of Finance and the Receiver General for Canada. These practices may therefore alter to the extent that recommendations flowing from the "Study of the Accounts of Canada" are accepted.

To assist the reader in interpreting the Government's financial statements, a brief outline of the main features of its accounting methods is given in the paragraphs which follow. This outline includes:

—The basic concepts of the Government's accounting system;
—The definition of the Government of Canada as an accounting entity;
—The identification of its financial transactions;
—The allocation of transactions to fiscal years;
—The measurement of transactions;
—The classification of transactions.

Basic Concepts

The two basic concepts of the Government's accounting system in the British North America Act are that all duties and revenues, other than those reserved to the Provinces, "shall form One Consolidated Revenue Fund" and that the balance of the Fund, after certain prior charges, is for appropriation by the Parliament of Canada. The Financial Administration Act further provides that "All estimates of expenditures submitted to Parliament shall be for the services coming in course of payment during the fiscal year" but modifies this requirement by permitting debts incurred during a fiscal year to be paid within the thirty days following the end of that year; any debts so paid may be charged in the accounts of the fiscal year just ended. After the period of thirty days allowed for the payment of debts, no further disbursements can be made from the unexpended balance of any annual appropriation. As a result, there are then no valid annual appropriations under which debts incurred during a fiscal year but still unpaid can be discharged. All disbursements to discharge debts incurred during a fiscal year should therefore be reflected in the accounts of that year. The effects of these constitutional and legal provisions are examined further in the following section.

The Government of Canada as an Accounting Entity

All the financial transactions of the Government of Canada are reflected in the Public Accounts, irrespective of whether they are undertaken by or on behalf of a department, agency or other body such as a board, commission, council, crown corporation or fund. There are, however, a number of crown corporations and other bodies which operate their own banking facilities and keep their own accounts. The financial transactions of these organizations are reflected in the transactions of the Government of Canada only to the extent that they receive money from or pay it to the Government.

As an accounting entity, the Government of Canada is therefore defined as the aggregate of all departments, agencies, boards, commissions, councils, crown corporations, funds and other bodies, with two exceptions. These exceptions are the "Agency" and "Proprietary" crown corporations, listed respectively in Schedules C and D of the Financial Administration Act and those crown corporations that are not subject to the Financial Administration Act. The crown corporations not subject to the Financial Administration Act include the Bank of Canada, the Canada Council, the Canadian Wheat Board, the Industrial Development Bank, the International Development Research Centre and the National Arts Centre Corporation.

The Government of Canada as an accounting entity is therefore the total of all its departments and other bodies that pay their receipts into and have their outlays financed from the Consolidated Revenue Fund of Canada with one important exception.

Although "Agency" and "Proprietary" crown corporations are normally permitted to make their own banking arrangements, five "Schedule C" corporations—the Canadian Dairy Commission, the Canadian Livestock Feed Board, the National Harbours Board, the Royal Canadian Mint and Uranium Canada Limited—are required to use the Consolidated Revenue Fund for banking purposes. These five "Agency" crown corporations are treated in the same way as other Schedule C and D corporations and therefore excluded from the definition of the Government of Canada as an accounting entity.

The distinction drawn between the Government of Canada as an accounting entity and those crown corporations that are regarded as outside that entity reflects the different nature of the transactions of the Government of Canada and those of the crown corporations in question. Within the Government of Canada, most financial transactions are undertaken for non-commercial purposes. Within the crown corporations in question, commercial objectives are significant and are reflected in their accounting systems.

The following description of the Government's accounting system therefore refers only to the departments, agencies and other accounting sub-entities that are included in the Government of Canada as an accounting entity.

The Identification of Financial Transactions

Section 106 of the British North America Act provides that all cash receipts are to be paid into the Consolidated Revenue Fund and that all cash payments are to be made from the Fund. The same requirement, together with the provisions in the Financial Administration Act that bring the bank accounts of the Government within the Consolidated Revenue Fund, ensures that the record of cash transactions into and out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund is complete.

The identification of financial transactions therefore begins with the identification of all cash transactions that lead to changes in the balance of the Consolidated Revenue Fund. Cash transactions within the Consolidated Revenue Fund when money is moved between bank accounts are therefore excluded from the Public Accounts. Such movements of money between accounts occur to transfer funds to where they are needed or to honour agreements with the chartered banks about the distribution of deposits of public money.

Apart from cash transactions, a number of internal transactions are identified. These transactions do not lead to any change in the balance of the Consolidated Revenue Fund but are included in the Public Accounts because of legislation or regulations.

The major internal transactions are:

—Interest, Government contributions and deferred charges credited to annuity, insurance and pension accounts;
—Deferred charges for loan flotation costs;
—Deferred credits for premiums on loans;
—Deferred credits for income due but not received;
—Advances to the Unemployment Insurance Account;
—Departmental working capital advances;
—Loans to revolving fund accounts;
—Unappropriated balances of the Old Age Security Fund;
—Unappropriated balances of Special Accounts carried forward to future years;
—Credits to votes from other appropriations;
—Internal transfers of interest;
—Internal transfers of surpluses between funds and accounts;
—Losses written off.

These internal entries defer revenue and expenditure, transfer authorities to disburse money between accounts or to subsequent fiscal years, and adjust the value of assets when losses have occurred.

In addition to the cash and internal transactions that have been described, two other types of transactions are identified in the Public Accounts of Canada. The initial transactions leading to issues of non-interest-bearing notes payable to the International Monetary Fund and other international organizations together with allocations of Special Drawing Rights received from the International Monetary Fund do not lead to changes in the Consolidated Revenue Fund but influence other assets and liabilities.

Non-interest-bearing notes payable to international organizations are issued as a part of Canada's subscriptions to the capital of such organizations. Such subscriptions are recorded as assets while the non-interest-bearing notes are recorded as liabilities until they are cashed. The initial issue of such notes therefore leads to no receipts of cash but there are subsequent cash payments to international organizations when they present the notes for payment.

Special Drawing Rights are allocated to Canada by the International Monetary Fund. At the time of any such allocation, no payment is made by Canada even although Special Drawing Rights are assets that can be used to make payments to other countries. To identify the transaction, Special Drawing Rights are recorded in additional advances to the Exchange Fund and the equivalent liability for their re-payment to the International Monetary Fund is recorded.

After the initial issues of non-interest-bearing notes or allocations of Special Drawing Rights, subsequent transactions lead to changes in the balance of the Consolidated Revenue Fund and are therefore identified in the same way as any other transactions that change the balance of the Fund.

The Allocation of Transactions to Fiscal Years

The allocation of transactions to accounting periods is usually determined on either a "cash" or an "accrual" basis. When the "cash" basis is used, revenues are taken into the accounts in the period during which they are collected and expenditures are accounted for when cash disbursements are made. When the "accrual" basis is used, revenues are accounted for when earned or due, even if they are not then collected, while expenditures are accounted for when liabilities to pay are incurred irrespective of whether or not payment is made in the same accounting period.

In the Public Accounts, revenues are reported on a cash basis so that accrued tax revenues and other revenues receivable or accrued (including interest accrued) are not normally reported as assets on the Government's statement of assets and liabilities. Both tax and non-tax revenues that have accrued but not been received are clearly not in the Consolidated Revenue Fund; they therefore cannot be used to finance disbursements from appropriations authorized by Parliament. Canada therefore measures its revenues when they are received.

In the case of expenditure, the Financial Administration Act provides that all estimates of expenditure shall be for the services coming in course of payment during the fiscal year but permits payments to discharge debts to be made from annual appropriations for thirty days after the end of the year and reported in the accounts for that year. Thereafter, all annual appropriations lapse. As a result, liabilities under contracts and other accounts payable at March 31, for which cheques are issued during April, are charged as expenditures in the year ended March 31 and appear as current liabilities on the statement of assets and liabilities. Any expenditures not so included are those for which annual appropriations have lapsed. This procedure brings into each year's transactions by far the greater part of the Government's expenditures that, on an accrual basis, would be included as accrued expenditures and carried to the statement of assets and liabilities as accounts payable.

Specific provisions are made to accrue interest on the public debt, and salaries and wages. Charges to budgetary expenditure for interest on unmatured debt, including Treasury Bills, are made each month as the interest accrues rather than annually or semi-annually as the interest becomes payable. Accrued salaries and wages are charged to budgetary expenditures at the end of the fiscal year.

The effect of these procedures is to include in budgetary expenditures for each fiscal year accrued interest on unmatured debt, accrued salaries and wages and a measure of other accrued expenditures based on debts incurred during a fiscal year and paid during the first thirty days after its end. The difference between budgetary expenditure as reported in the Public Accounts and budgetary expenditure on a full accrual basis is therefore the value of debts incurred during a fiscal year and not paid during the following thirty days. As already indicated, no valid annual appropriations then exist to discharge such unpaid debts.

On the other hand, revenue is reported on a cash basis.

These practices are conservative in that budgetary expenditure is included in the accounts for the year as liabilities while accrued revenues are not treated as assets or taken into revenue until collected.

In the case of non-budgetary transactions, receipts from the sale of assets and the incurring of liabilities together with payments for the acquisition of assets and the retirement of liabilities are recorded when they occur. There are, however, a range of non-budgetary transactions that do not lead to any receipts or payments of cash. These non-budgetary transactions have already been described in the section dealing with the "Identification of Financial Transactions".

The Measurement of Transactions

All transactions are measured in terms of Canadian dollars, as required by the Financial Administration Act.

Where a transaction leads to movements of money into or out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund, its value is taken to be that of the cash receipt or disbursement in question. The only significant exception to this practice is in the measurement of receipts from issues of marketable bonds and Treasury Bills. Treasury Bills are issued at a discount; marketable bonds may be issued at par, a discount or a premium. However, issues of marketable bonds and Treasury Bills are recorded at face value. Any discount from face value is recorded in the Unamortized Loan Flotation Costs Account; any premium is credited to deferred credits. Bond discounts and premiums are amortized over the period from the date of issue to the earliest call date, if one is specified, or from the date of issue to the date of maturity of the loan. In the case of Treasury Bills, that part of the discount that is applicable to the year of issue is charged to interest on the Public Debt.

Expenditures accrued at the end of a fiscal year do not lead to payments of money out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund during that fiscal year. Accrued expenditures are therefore measured at the amounts that will be payable from the Fund when the related liabilities are liquidated.

Transactions that do not lead to payments into or out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund are measured in a number of ways. For the purposes of measurement, such transactions can be considered in three groups.

The first group consists of transactions arising from the deferring of expenditure or revenue. This group includes charges for actuarial deficiencies in superannuation accounts, deferred charges for loan flotation costs and deferred credits for loan premiums and interest earned but not received.

In the case of the superannuation accounts for the Canadian Forces, Public Service and Royal Canadian Mounted Police, any actuarial deficiencies are valued every fifth year and the superannuation account in question is then credited with the total amount of the deficiency. At the same time the total amount is also debited to the account for deferred charges for superannuation accounts. The deferred charge is amortized by annual charges to budgetary expenditures or revolving funds over a period of five years, starting in the year in which it is first set up. Similar adjustments are also made when there are salary increases.

The transactions to amortize deferred loan flotation costs are calculations of the amounts required to amortize such costs either over the life of a loan or over the time from its date of issue to its earliest call date.

Deferred credits for loan premiums are first measured at the amounts received; these amounts are then credited to interest on the public debt over the life of the loans in question. Deferred credits for interest earned but not received are measured at the amount of the interest in question.

The measurement of transactions arising from the deferring of expenditure is therefore based on their original recorded values and the convention adopted to record such transactions in the accounts over a period of time. In the case of deferred credits for interest, the convention is designed to ensure that certain debts due but not paid are still recorded as owing.

The second group consists of transactions that arise from transfers between accounts or to subsequent fiscal years.

They are measured as follows:

—Loans to the Unemployment Insurance Account, departmental working capital advance accounts and revolving fund accounts represent amounts drawn against authorities to disburse money made available to these accounts;

—Additions to the unappropriated balances of the Old Age Security Fund and Special Accounts are the amounts of authorities to disburse money that have not yet been exercised and that are carried forward to future years;

—Credits to votes where the amounts in question are paid from one department or agency to another are measured at the amount that the paying department or agency has agreed to transfer to the recipient;

—Internal transfers of interest are measured in the normal way on the basis of the principal outstanding and the agreed rate of interest;

—Revolving fund surpluses are the excess of revenues over expenses.

The last group of transactions consists of losses written-off. These transactions are measured at the determined amount of the loss; they are, in effect, adjustments of the value of assets.

Classification of Transactions

For the reader's convenience, this section has been subdivided as follows:

—Classification of items as budgetary and non-budgetary;
—Budgetary revenue;
—Budgetary expenditure;
—Liabilities;
—Assets;
—Net debt.

The Classification of Transactions as Budgetary and Non-Budgetary

The financial transactions of the Government of Canada are classified into two basic groups, budgetary and non-budgetary.

In general terms, "budgetary" transactions occur when current revenues are raised or current expenditures are made; "non-budgetary" transactions lead to the acquisition or disposal of a financial asset or to the creation or discharge of a financial liability. These classifications are, however, subject to a number of exceptions and may also be altered at the discretion of the Minister of Finance or by legislation.

The Minister of Finance is given a discretionary power in Section 55(2)(c) of the Financial Administration Act to determine "such of the assets and direct and contingent liabilities of Canada as, in the opinion of the Minister, are required to give a true and fair view of the financial position of Canada as at the termination of the fiscal year". He therefore has the power to change the classification of any transactions from budgetary to non-budgetary, or vice versa.

Most changes in the classification of transactions as budgetary or non-budgetary are, however, made by legislation establishing a new fund or account. Any fund or advance account within the Consolidated Revenue Fund is classified as non-budgetary so that, whenever a new fund or advance account is created, transactions that would otherwise be treated as budgetary are classified as non-budgetary. These changes in classification apply to both revenue and expenditure.

For example, if a new advance account or revolving fund is allocated certain fees, the classification of these fees will change from budgetary revenue to non-budgetary receipts. Similarly, when an advance account or revolving fund is created, any capital expenditures it makes are re-classified from budgetary expenditures to non-budgetary payments.

The classification of transactions as budgetary or non-budgetary may not be the same from one fiscal year to another. Budgetary transactions can be classified as non-budgetary, or vice versa, whenever a new advance or fund account is created or discontinued.

For the purpose of accounting and reporting, the Public Accounts uses the definition of budgetary and non-budgetary transactions in force at the end of the fiscal year to which the report refers and presents comparative figures for the previous fiscal year based on the same definition. This procedure has been adopted to provide as accurate comparisons as possible between the current and previous fiscal years in any given edition of the Public Accounts.

Budgetary Revenue

Budgetary revenue includes all tax revenues from income tax, the oil export charge or tax, excise taxes and duties, customs import duties and estate tax subject to the exceptions noted in the following paragraph. In addition, budgetary revenue includes the returns received on investments, postal revenue net of both disbursements and revenues credited to the votes of the Post Office, and certain other non-tax revenues. The main items included in other non-tax revenues are receipts from fees, sales, privileges, licences, permits and bullion and coinage transactions and refunds of previous years' expenditures.

Budgetary revenue is stated net of refunds paid and excludes:

1. the shares of personal income tax, corporate income tax and sales tax revenues that are credited to the Old Age Security Fund;
2. taxes collected by the Government of Canada but paid to participating provinces in accordance with Federal-Provincial Agreements;
3. receipts from the Air Transportation Tax credited to both the Airports Revolving Fund and budgetary expenditures of the Ministry of Transport;
4. contributions to the Canada Pension Plan and Unemployment Insurance;
5. receipts credited to votes;
6. receipts credited directly to Special Accounts;
7. receipts credited directly to revolving funds.

Budgetary Expenditure

Budgetary expenditure includes all sums paid or accrued on account of debts incurred during a fiscal year for operating expenditures, capital expenditures, grants and contributions. Budgetary expenditure also includes certain internal transactions that do not lead to changes in the balance of the Consolidated Revenue Fund. These transactions include:

1. all charges for interest, Government contributions and actuarial deficiencies that are credited to superannuation accounts;
2. the Government's contribution to the Unemployment Insurance Account that permits the recovery of advances made in prior years to this account;
3. undisbursed balances of appropriations to Special Accounts and certain other accounts;
4. provisions to write-off losses;
5. charges to amortize actuarial adjustments and loan flotation costs recorded as deferred charges.

Budgetary expenditure does not include Old Age pensions, pensions paid under the Canada Pension Plan, Unemployment Insurance payments other than benefits to fishermen, any payments financed from receipts credited directly to Special Accounts or expenditures charged to working capital advance accounts and revolving funds.

Liabilities

The liabilities of the Government of Canada consist of:

1. financial obligations to be paid in future to organizations and individuals outside the Government, including its employees, as a result of events and transactions prior to the accounting date; and
2. credit balances for deferred credits and undisbursed balances of appropriations for the Old Age Security Fund and Special Accounts.

The first group, financial obligations to organizations and individuals outside the Government, includes accrued interest, accrued salaries and wages, accounts payable and the accrued liabilities of superannuation accounts. Accounts payable are those liabilities under contracts and other accounts payable that are outstanding at March 31 but that are paid within thirty days thereafter in accordance with provisions of the Financial Administration Act. The liabilities of superannuation accounts are periodically re-valued on an actuarial basis.

The second group, credit balances for deferred credits and the undisbursed balances of appropriations for the Old Age Security Fund and Special Accounts, does not represent obligations to other organizations and individuals. In particular, Old Age Pensions are payable by law irrespective of the balance in the Old Age Security Fund. These credit balances are recorded because the accounts in question are classified as non-budgetary.

The classes of liabilities shown in the statement of liabilities include:

1. current liabilities, including matured debt outstanding, outstanding cheques and warrants, interest due and outstanding, interest accrued, accrued salaries and wages, accounts payable, non-interest-bearing notes payable to international organizations and other obligations payable on demand;
2. obligations payable to the International Monetary Fund;
3. sundry funds deposited with the Receiver General for Canada or held in trust for various purposes;
4. social security funds;
5. amounts to the credit of other annuity, insurance and pension accounts;
6. undisbursed balances of special accounts, which, in accordance with the legislation under which they are authorized, are available for expenditure in periods subsequent to the fiscal year in which they are granted;
7. provision for compound and bonus interest on Canada savings bonds;
8. amounts due to the Government but in respect of which payment has been deferred; these are contra accounts to corresponding items under "Loans to, and investments in, Crown Corporations", "Loans to national governments" and "Other loans and investments";
9. suspense accounts consisting of balances where some uncertainty as to disposition exists; and
10. unmatured debt, consisting of bonds and treasury bills.

Assets

The recorded assets of the Government consist of:

1. the realizable or income earning financial claims that it has acquired on other organizations and individuals as a result of events and transactions prior to the accounting date;
2. other financial claims on third parties that yield no income and may not be realizable but for which no authority to write them off has been obtained from Parliament;
3. the debit balances in the Unemployment Insurance Account and in the accounts for deferred charges, working capital advances and revolving funds.

In recording assets, the policy is to exclude two categories of assets.

The first category consists of accruals of revenue, including taxes and revenues receivable. The exclusion of this category follows from the practice of reporting revenue when it is received.

The second category consists of inventories of materials, supplies and equipment together with public works and buildings, national monuments, military assets (such as aircraft, naval vessels, guns and tanks) and other physical capital assets which are recorded at a nominal value of $1. Inventories and other physical assets were originally excluded on the basis of the principle that they were neither revenue producing nor realizable assets that could be offset against gross liabilities in determining net debt.

Once, however, this principle was applied, the statement of assets then became a statement of the Government's holding of financial claims, other than the receivables excluded because revenues and other receipts are reported on a cash basis. The present policy is therefore to report assets on this basis, together with the debit balances of certain accounts that will next be examined.

Debit balances in the Unemployment Insurance Account and in the accounts for deferred charges, working capital advances and revolving funds are, with one possible exception, not claims on individuals and organizations outside the Government.

Any debit balance in the Unemployment Insurance Account at the end of a fiscal year is recoverable from higher premiums in subsequent years and, where unemployment exceeds a stated percentage, a contribution made by the Government and paid at the start of the next fiscal year. The sums recoverable from future increases in premiums could be regarded as claims on contributors to Unemployment Insurance.

The debit balances for deferred charges appear because of the policy of deferring certain charges. The debit balances in working capital advance and revolving fund accounts occur because of the policy of making advances to these accounts instead of financing them by budgetary appropriations; the effect of this policy is that the financing of certain inventories and physical capital assets is reflected in assets.

Assets are valued at cost or at written down values, except for capital assets which are shown at a nominal value of $1. Valuation at written down values is applied only after the necessary authority has been obtained from Parliament.

Special Drawing Rights issued by the International Monetary Fund have been recorded in the accounts in accordance with the Fund's recommendations to participants.

Balances in bank accounts operated in foreign currencies are converted to Canadian currency at the year end on the basis of market rates.

The classes of assets shown in the statement of assets include:

1. current assets, including cash, and securities, held for the securities investment account;
2. departmental working capital advances;
3. foreign exchange reserve accounts, including advances to the exchange fund account for the acquisition of gold and foreign exchange and Canada's subscription to the capital of the International Monetary Fund;
4. social security accounts which include the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund and advances to the Unemployment Insurance Account;
5. loans to, and investments in, crown corporations;
6. other loans and investments, including loans to provincial and municipal governments, advances to the Municipal Development and Loan Board and a number of miscellaneous advances to veterans and others;
7. loans to national governments and international organizations;
8. securities held in trust for various deposit and trust and annuity, insurance and pension accounts, and bonds, shares, certificates and certified cheques held in connection with contractors' security deposits;
9. deferred charges which consist of the unamortized portions of the actuarial deficiencies in the superannuation accounts, representing that portion of the Government's liability in respect of these accounts that has not been charged to budgetary expenditures, and discounts, commissions, redemption bonuses and conversion premiums on loan flotations, remaining to be charged to expenditure;
10. capital assets, a category set up to cover physical capital assets that are charged to budgetary expenditure at the time of acquisition or construction and which are shown on the statement of assets and liabilities at a nominal value of $1; and
11. inactive loans and investments which are not currently yielding interest, profits or dividends.

The reserve for losses on the realization of assets is not shown as a liability but is deducted from the total of the assets.

Net Debt

The excess of gross liabilities over the net recorded assets is designated as the net debt. Net debt was originally the excess of gross liabilities over "active" assets, that is, assets that were realizable or produced income; it is now, in effect, the overall deficit recorded since Confederation.

Additional explanations are given in the notes to the statements that follow.

Notes to Statements of Revenue, Expenditure, Appropriation and Unexpended Balances for the Fiscal Year Ended March 31, 1975

1. ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The significant accounting policies on which these statements are based are described in Section 1, "The Scope and Methods of the Public Accounts," of Volume I.

2. RECEIPTS AND REVENUE NOT INCLUDED IN REVENUE ACCOUNTS

Revenue is stated net of amounts credited to other accounts as follows:

i. SOCIAL SECURITY ACCOUNTS

	1974–75	1973–74
The Old Age Security Fund—
Personal Income Tax	$1,642,000,000	$1,300,000,000
Corporation Income Tax	550,500,000	299,000,000
Sales Tax	966,023,429	897,477,024
	3,158,523,429	2,496,477,024
The Canada Pension Plan	1,743,177,529	1,435,391,091
The Unemployment Insurance Account	1,622,000,000	1,019,500,000

ii. DEPARTMENT OF NATIONAL DEFENCE ACCOUNTS

Proceeds of $9.8 million from sales of surplus property and equipment were credited by the Department of National Defence to its Surplus Crown Assets account, and defence expenditures of $19.6 million were made from this account.

In addition, proceeds of $1.3 million from sales of non-surplus property and equipment were credited to its Replacement of Material account and defence expenditures of $5.7 million were made from this account.

iii. DEPARTMENT OF POST OFFICE ACCOUNTS

Under authority of the Post Office Act, R.S., c. P-14, remuneration of postmasters and staffs at certain classes of post offices, and other costs, totalling $79.9 million, were paid from gross postal revenue.

iv. DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORT ACCOUNTS

Receipts from the Air Transportation Tax which came into effect on December 1, 1974 totalled $7.1 million to the end of the 1974-75 fiscal year; of this amount $3.7 million has been credited to departmental working capital advances of the Department of Transport, and $3.4 million has been credited to budgetary expenditure of the department.

This allocation is based on passenger traffic through those airports financed under the Airports Revolving Fund and those financed by budgetary expenditure respectively.

v. BUDGETARY EXPENDITURE ACCOUNTS

Receipts and revenue totalling $714 million have been credited to budgetary expenditure compared to $567 million credited in 1973-74.

vi. OTHER SPECIAL ACCOUNTS AND REVOLVING FUNDS

Applicable receipts and revenue were credited directly thereto.

3. EFFECT OF MARCH 31ST FALLING ON A HOLIDAY

Since March 31, 1975 fell on Easter Monday, the fiscal year 1974-75 remained opened until Tuesday, April 1, 1975, in accordance with the provisions of the Interpretation Act (Revised Statutes of Canada 1970, c. I-23, Section 25(1)). The effect of this provision was to include in the fiscal year 1974-75 those receipts and payments on April 1, 1975, that referred to the business of the 1974-75 fiscal year. In addition, payments for goods and services received on April 1, 1975 could be included in 1974-75, if they were made by April 30, 1975.

4. OIL EXPORT TAX/CHARGE

Revenues from oil exports have been derived from the oil export tax applicable to exports made to the end of March 1974 and from the oil export charge applicable to exports made since the end of March 1974.

The Oil Export Tax Act authorized the Minister of Finance to make payments equal to 50% of tax revenues derived from the oil export tax, to the exporting provinces in which the exported crude was produced, recovered or extracted. Payments equal to 50% of oil export tax revenues have been made in accordance with the Act.

No amounts related to the oil export charge are payable to exporting provinces; however, compensation payments to importers of crude oil and petroleum products have been made and are included in the expenditures of the Department of Energy, Mines and Resources.

5. TRANSFER OF DUTIES, RESPONSIBILITIES AND LEGISLATIVE CHANGES

Where transfer of duties, responsibilities or legislative changes take place in a fiscal year, the amounts for the previous fiscal year when material are adjusted for comparative purposes.

The only such adjustment made concerns the Department of National Health and Welfare.

While in 1973-74 Votes 25 and 35 of the Department of National Health and Welfare carried vote-netting privileges, in 1974-75 they did not. In order to adjust the previous year figures for comparative purposes, revenues and expenditures were increased by $16.3 million.

Other changes where no adjustments have been made to the 1973-74 figures are as follows:

The costs of publications of Information Canada during 1974-75 were charged to the Publishing Revolving Fund. In 1973-74 the costs of publications ($5.3 million) had been charged to Vote 5 of the Department of Labour and the proceeds from sales of publications ($3.4 million) had been credited to non-tax revenue.

In 1973-74 the Department of National Defence administered the Civil Emergency Measures Program and fully absorbed its expenditures of $5.5 million. In 1974-75 this program was decentralized and the related expenditures are included in appropriate departments and agencies.

Explanations regarding the general nature of the items in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities

ASSETS

1. (a) Cash represents balances of current and special deposits at credit of the Receiver General for Canada in banks in Canada, London, New York, Paris, Bonn, Brussels, Rome and Frankfurt and cash in hands of collectors and in transit. Cash in hands of collectors and in transit represents moneys received by public officers on or before March 31 but not deposited to the credit of the Receiver General for Canada until after that date. Indian agencies revenue trust bank accounts record moneys held in trust for Indians in authorized banks in Canada, and temporary deposits in Customs and Excise bank accounts record moneys held as a security for the temporary entry of goods or to otherwise ensure compliance with various departmental regulations.

1. (b) This shows the temporary holdings by the Government of Canada at amortized cost of its own securities (including Canada savings bonds at par for resale to subscribers under the government employees instalment purchase plan).

1. (c) This category includes moneys received after March 31, but applicable to the current year, Post Office moneys in hands of collectors and in transit at March 31. Accounts receivable, with the exception of those held as charges against departmental working capital advances, are not included in this statement. Summaries of accounts receivable furnished by departments are shown in a section of Volume II and an overall total by departments is shown in section 12 of this volume.

2. Departmental working capital advances constitute the advances outstanding at the close of the relative fiscal years for working funds of certain government departments.

3. (a) This is the valuation of advances to finance the purchase of gold, foreign exchange and notes issued by the International Monetary Fund. The balance of advances at March 31, 1975 also includes the Canadian dollar equivalent of 358,620,000 units of Special Drawing Rights issued to Canada by the International Monetary Fund. This total does not include the earnings of the Exchange Fund Account for the period January 1, 1975 to March 31, 1975 which amounted to $65,023,625.

3. (b) This account records Canada's quota in the International Monetary Fund.

In this organization members' quotas are now expressed in Special Drawing Rights and are normally paid in gold (25%) and the remainder (75%) in the member's currency. If the fund does not require a currency, this portion of a member's quota may be paid in the form of non-interest-bearing notes payable on demand, except for a cash working balance of at least one per cent. Whenever this working balance contains more than $1 million in excess of this minimum requirement, the fund remits cash to the member and demand notes are substituted in round lots of $1 million; conversely should the working balance fall below minimum requirements the reverse action takes place. These notes are carried as a liability of the Government of Canada under the heading "foreign exchange reserve accounts".

Until 1972 quotas were expressed in U.S. dollars. When Canada joined the fund in 1946-47 its quota was set at U.S. $300 million. This was raised to U.S. $550 million in October 1959, in May 1966 to U.S. $740 million and in December 1970 to U.S. $1,100 million or 1,100 million SDR's at the then prevailing rate of U.S. $1 = 1 SDR.

4. The Canada Pension Plan Act, 1965 directed that this account be established to record the purchase and the sale of securities of the Government of Canada, of a participating province, or of any agent of Her Majesty in right of that province that is guaranteed as to principal and interest by the province. The amount by which the operating balance of the Canada Pension Plan account in any month exceeds the estimated amount required to meet all payments in the following three-month period is available for the purchase of securities of participating provinces. Securities of Canada shall be purchased with the excess remaining after purchasing securities of each province as required.

Also included are those assets accounts in respect of the Unemployment Insurance Account.

Any actuarial deficiency revealed at that time will be credited to the account and charged to unamortized portions of actuarial deficiencies and amortized to budgetary expenditure in five equal annual instalments commencing in the fiscal year in which the report is laid before Parliament. FINANCIAL OPERATIONS

This section outlines the financial operations of the government in 1974-75 giving a brief summary of the budgetary and non-budgetary transactions, unmatured debt transactions and changes in the cash position and the debt position during the fiscal year. More detailed explanations are given in subsequent sections of this volume.

To meet the needs of those interested in the impact of the operations of the Government of Canada on the economy, its revenues and expenditures re-classified on a national accounts basis are also included.

Table 1 summarizes the financial transactions of the government for 1973-74 and 1974-75 and shows how they influenced the cash balances of the Receiver General for Canada. In particular, it shows that in 1974-75 the total budgetary and non-budgetary receipts of the government, excluding receipts from operations in unmatured debt, rose by 27% to $54,120 million while its total payments, excluding the repayment of debt, increased by 27% to $5,627 million. As a result of these changes, there was a cash deficit of $1,507 million. New issues of $25,393 million of unmatured debt provided the funds to cover this deficit and to repay $21,491 million of debt. The net effect of all these transactions resulted in an increase in Receiver General bank balances of $2,395.

Revenue increased by $5,526 million to a total of $24,909 million in 1974-75. The effect of the tax changes announced in June 1975 was to moderate the growth in revenue which ordinarily would accompany a period of rapid growth in the economy. The major increases in revenue were $2,142 million from personal income tax, $874 million from corporation income tax, $1,382 million from oil export tax charge, $207 million from sales taxes, $424 million from customs import duties and $342 million from returns on investment. These were the major factors in increasing the expansion of revenue from $2,675 million in 1973-74 to $5,526 million in 1974-75 and its rate of growth from 16.7% to 28.5% per annum in the same periods.

Expenditure rose by $6,000 million, or 29.9%, to $26,055 million in 1974-75; in 1973-74 the corresponding increases were $3,918 million and 24.3%. The greater part of the rise in expenditure in 1974-75 was the result of increases of $1,672 million in expenditure on health and welfare, $1,414 million in economic development and support, $616 million in public debt charges and $649 million in transportation and communications. These four functions of the government accounted for $4,351 million of the increase in expenditure in 1974-75. In 1973-74 they accounted for $2,999 million of the increase of $3,918 million in that year.

Table 3 presents revenue by source and expenditure by function for both 1973-74 and 1974-75. It shows that the effects of the changes in revenue and expenditure just described resulted in a budgetary deficit of $1,146 million compared with the budgetary deficit of $672 million in 1973-74.

Non-budgetary transactions

(excluding unmatured debt transactions)

Social security accounts

The three social security accounts are those for the Old Age Security Fund, the Canada Pension Plan and the Unemployment Insurance Account. Details of their transactions in 1973-74 and 1974-75 are given in Table 6.

The Old Age Security Fund up to and including 1971 was financed by tax receipts. The old age security taxes were eliminated after 1971 but the Old Age Security Fund remains and amounts determined by reference to the previously existing old age security tax rates are credited to this fund. These receipts were $3,413 million in 1974-75 an increase of 25% over their level in 1973-74. Outlays rose to $3,445 million in 1974-75 or $32 million over receipts. In 1973-74 outlays of $3,035 million exceeded receipts by $303 million.

The Canada Pension Plan had receipts of $1,758 million in 1974-75 which exceeded its outlays of $429 million by $1,329 million. The greater part of the excess was invested in purchasing $1,285 million of provincial and federal government bonds.

The Unemployment Insurance Account receipts of $2,520 million were $40 million less than outlays of $2,560 million, of which $63 million were repayments of advances. In 1973-74 receipts were $2,143 million, of which $244 million were advances from the government, and outlays were $2,181 million.

Other Non-Budgetary Transactions

(excluding unmatured debt transactions)

Other operations include receipts from other annuity, insurance and pension accounts, loans, investments and advances, sums required to finance additions to foreign exchange reserves and a variety of miscellaneous transactions. The balances from these are shown in Table 1.

Other annuity, insurance and pension accounts include the superannuation accounts of the public service, the Canadian forces and the R.C.M.P., the government annuities account and certain other accounts of a similar nature such as the account for retiring allowances to Members of Parliament. The net receipts from these accounts rose from $1,296 million in 1973-74 to $1,770 million in 1974-75.

Loans, investments and advances are made to crown corporations, provincial governments, governments outside Canada, international organizations, private businesses and individuals. The greater part of these loans, investments and advances are made to crown corporations: in 1974-75 net loans to and investments in crown corporations were $1,583 million as compared with $1,075 million in 1973-74. Other loans, investments and advances were $827 million in 1974-75 and $796 million in 1973-74.

Foreign exchange operations to finance increases in Canada's international reserves include receipts from Special Drawing Rights (S.D.R.'s) issued by the International Monetary Fund and payments arising from subscriptions of capital to the International Monetary Fund, advances to the Exchange Fund and the redemption of non-interest-bearing notes payable to the International Monetary Fund. During 1974-75, there were no receipts from S.D.R.'s the total value of those held remaining at $370 million. The net decrease in advances to the Exchange Fund during the year was $673 million as a result of advances to and repayments from it of $3,990 million and $4,663 million respectively. The net effect of all foreign exchange operations of this type resulted in a net decrease of $643 million in total advances in 1974-75 as compared with a decrease of $207 million in 1973-74.

Collections of provincial income tax totalled $3,420 million during the year and payments to the provinces were $3,616 million resulting in a debit balance of $16 million at March 31, 1975. This debit balance represents overpayments to provinces and was reclassified as such in Loans to provinces. In 1973-74 collections were $2,752 million and payments were $2,796 million.

Miscellaneous operations produced net payments of $218 million in 1974-75 as compared to net receipts of $317 million in 1973-74.

Unmatured debt Transactions

The net cash requirement arising from the budget, operations of social security funds and other operations was $1,507 million in 1974-75 as compared with $1,318 million in 1973-74. Table 1 shows that the increased sums required to finance the Unemployment Insurance Account was a major factor in this cash requirement.

Cash requirements were met entirely by net issues of marketable bonds, treasury bill and Canada savings bonds. In 1974-75, there was a net increase of $659 million of marketable bonds; in 1973-74, the net increase in the issues of these bonds was $89 million. In addition, there was a net increase of $725 million in treasury bill issues as compared with $615 million in 1973-74. The Canada savings bond issue of 1974-75 increased considerably and resulted in an increase of $2,509 million as compared with a decrease of $583 million in 1973-74. Other borrowing produced a net receipt of $9 million as compared with a net receipt of $8 million in 1973-74.

Change in cash position

A summary of all these operations is given in Table 1 which shows that their net effect was to increase the bank balances of the Receiver General, including those in foreign currencies, by $2,395 million from $810 million at March 31, 1974 to $3,205 million at March 31, 1975.

Change in debt position

As a result of all the operations just described, the gross public debt increased by $7,139 million to $62,696 million at March 31, 1975, net recorded assets increased by $5,993 million to $43,422 million and the net debt increased by $1,146 million to $19,274 million.

SUMMARY OF CHANGES IN ASSET AND LIABILITY ACCOUNT BALANCES AND EFFECT OF THESE CHANGES ON FINANCIAL RESOURCES

Table 7 summarizes changes in asset and liability account balances and shows in general terms how the government financed its operations, and the major uses of the financial resources which were available. In 1974-75, the most important sources of financing were: bonds, including Canada Savings Bonds, $3.2 billion and Treasury Bills $0.7 billion; superannuation accounts of the Public Service, the Canadian Forces and the RCMP, $1.7 billion; contributions to the Canada Pension Plan, $1.3 billion; and $0.7 billion from foreign exchange reserves.

The most significant uses for financial resources during the year were: Crown Corporations $1.6 billion; investment of Canada Pension Plan funds in Provincial Government Securities, $1.3 billion; and the budgetary deficit for the year, $1.1 billion.

The net result of these and the lesser transactions set out in Table 7, was that current assets increased by $2.5 billion, almost all of which was represented by cash in banks.

For 1973-74, the previous fiscal year, financing was available mainly from: an increase in current liabilities, $1.4 billion, including $1 billion of outstanding cheques and accounts payable; government superannuation accounts, $1.3 billion; contributions to the Canada Pension Plan, $1.1 billion; and $0.6 billion from Treasury Bills. The most significant net uses of financial resources in 1973-74 were: Crown Corporations, $1.1 billion; investment of Canada Pension Plan funds in Provincial Government securities, $1.1 billion; bonds $0.5 billion, including Canada Savings Bond net redemptions of $0.6 billion offset by other net issues of $0.1 billion; and the budgetary deficit for the year, of $0.7 billion. The result of these and the other transactions of the year was a net reduction in current assets of $0.3 billion, represented mostly by cash.

The amounts reported as financial resources available and used are net amounts and have not been modified by changes in related deferral accounts, e.g. proceeds of bonds and Treasury Bills have not been modified by discounts on issue; financing from superannuation accounts has not been adjusted for the increase in unamortized actuarial deficiences which accounted for part of the net increase in superannuation accounts.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT REVENUE AND EXPENDITURE ON A NATIONAL ACCOUNTS BASIS

Revenue and expenditure both increased during the year 1974-75. The rate of increase of expenditure was greater than that of revenue, consequently, the deficit on a national accounts basis increased from $48 million in 1973-74 to $503 million in 1974-75. There were gains in all revenue components during the year with personal and corporate income tax, the oil export charge and customs import duties accounting for about three quarters of the total revenue increase. Personal direct taxes rose by over 28% or $3,141 million, a much higher rate of increase than in 1973-74 (11.9% or $1,180 million). Higher wages and salaries in 1974-75 and larger employer and employee contributions to the Unemployment Insurance Account (+ $602 million) were the most significant factors in the growth in this component of revenue.

Corporate direct taxes rose by 25.4% or $939 million in line with the increase in corporation profits.

Indirect taxes, the second largest component of revenue after personal direct taxes, rose during 1974-75 by $1,875 million or almost 29%, compared to $1,179 million or 22.2% increase in 1973-74. Receipts from the oil export charge advanced by well over a billion dollars, due to the fact that 1974-75 was the first full year of the levy. The extent of the increase in customs import duties was $426 million which can be attributed to a 34.2% rise in merchandise imports during the year.

Federal investment income increased by $347 million or 19.1%, up from a modest advance of 1.5% in the previous year. The principal increases were: interest on government loans and advances, $151 million; interest on government held public funds $122 million and remitted profits of government enterprises $76 million.

Federal expenditure increased during the year by 29.1% or $6,923 million compared with a $2,965 million rise in the previous year. All components reflected increases of varying degree with transfers to persons, subsidy payments and transfers to other levels of government accounting for more than two thirds of the total increase. The increase of $1,677 million or 22.5% in the transfers to persons was associated with higher family allowances payments which rose by $829 million as a result of the first full year's payments at the increased rate of $20 per child per month, effective in early 1974 and the indexation of these payments in January 1975. Other factors contributing to the sharp increase in this expenditure component were larger benefit payments under the old age security (+ $406 million) and the unemployment insurance (+ $335 million) programs. The former resulted from increases in payments in keeping with the rise in the cost of living index and the latter reflected the continued high level of unemployment during the year.

Interest on the public debt rose by 24% or $617 million resulting from raising the yield on outstanding Canada

Savings Bonds and from a net increase in outstanding debt.

Subsidy payments rose by 143% or almost treble the percentage rate of increase in the previous year. This substantial rise of $1,406 million as compared with a $336 million rise during 1973-74 was due mainly to higher payments to oil importers in Eastern Canada (+ $985 million) under the oil stabilization program introduced at the end of 1973-74 fiscal year, larger payments to the railways (+ $154 million) to compensate for the freight-rate freeze, increased compensation to rail companies under the National Transportation Act (+ $71 million), larger dairy payments (+ $86 million), higher outlays under the fluid and powdered milk subsidy program (+ $25 million) and higher operational costs of the C.B.C. (+ $63 million) which is treated as an enterprise for national accounts purposes.

Increases in the transfer to other levels of government component of $1,659 million or 33%, compared to $464 million or 10% in 1973-74, reflected higher outlays under such programs as Federal Provincial tax sharing agreements (+ $980 million), Hospital Insurance and Diagnostic Services Act (+ $221 million), Medical Care Act (+ $85 million), Canada Assistance Plan (+ $136 million), Bilingualism (+ $22 million) and grants for regional economic expansion (+ $78 million).

Outlays on defence goods and services rose during 1974-75 by just over 13% or $300 million which was almost equivalent to the rate of increase in the previous year.

Expenditures on non-defence goods and services amounted to $5,064 million for an increase of $939 million or 22.7% with labour income, increasing by over 20% due mainly to higher wage settlements during the year. Inflation itself also affected the level of disbursements on this major expenditure component.

Payments to non-residents rose very significantly during 1974-75 increasing by over 28% due to higher official contributions abroad (+ $90 million) under the various international assistance and food aid programs.

Reconciliation of the Public Accounts and National Accounts Presentation

The reconciliation of revenue and expenditure, within the national accounts framework, with that within the budgetary or public accounts framework is presented in Tables 9 and 10.

The framework (national accounts or public accounts) within which the annual budget or surplus is computed, has a significant impact on its level. The contributing factors to the difference may be grouped within three classifications:

(i) transactions included within the budgetary or public accounts framework, but excluded from the national accounts framework, e.g. Post Office which is deemed by international convention, to be an enterprise in national accounts analysis,

(ii) extra-budgetary transactions excluded from the budgetary or public accounts presentation, but included in the national accounts determination of government revenue and expenditure, e.g. Old Age Security Fund and the Unemployment Insurance Account,

(iii) other adjustments required to convert data in accordance with national accounts concepts, such as those required to convert investment income, corporate income tax and capital formation from a cash to an accrual basis, and those required to incorporate the transactions of other government funds and Crown agencies within the national accounts framework.

The public accounts or budgetary deficit of $672 million at the end of 1973-74 increased to $1,146 million at the end of 1974-75, while within the national accounts framework the deficit of $48 million in 1973-74 increased to a deficit of $503 million in 1974-75. Increases in revenue from extra budgetary and other funds were more than offset by increases in expenditure of these funds as well as a much smaller adjustment to place receipts from the oil export charge on an accrual basis for national account purposes.

[4] This item includes the supplementary period adjustment. In the national accounts, expenditures on goods and services in the supplementary period are split evenly between adjacent fiscal years; most other expenditure items are shifted entirely to the next fiscal year.

REVENUE

Budgetary revenue falls into two main classes, tax revenue and non-tax revenue. The most important of these from a revenue standpoint and its effect on the country's economy is tax revenue which accounted for 90% of total receipts in 1974-75.

The main sources of tax revenue are personal and corporation income taxes, excise taxes (including the general sales tax and the oil export tax and charge), customs import duties and excise duties.

Non-tax revenue consists of return on investments which includes interest received on loans and advances made by the government to crown corporations, provincial and municipal governments, national governments and departmental operating accounts and the government's share of profits made by crown corporations; revenue which arises from the operations of the Post Office; and other miscellaneous items arising from the normal activities of the government.

In addition to those receipts referred to above, there are receipts arising from certain program activities which are not credited to budgetary revenue as such, but are taken into the government's accounts as credits to the appropriations covering those programs. The authority for this action is included in the program details of the Appropriation Acts.

Also, under federal-provincial agreements the federal government collects provincial income taxes for certain provinces which are not included as budgetary revenue but are credited to a deposit account pending their transmittal to the relevant province.

Other receipts which are not included in budgetary revenue are taxes or their equivalent arising from provisions of the Old Age Security Act, collections under provisions of the Canada Pension Plan and contributions under the Unemployment Insurance Act.

Summary

Budgetary revenue in 1974-75 totalled $24,909 million, $5,526 million or 29% over the comparable amount of $19,383 million received in 1973-74. Tax revenue at $22,328 million accounted for 90% of total budgetary revenue and non-tax revenue at $2,581 million accounted for 10% of the total revenue for 1974-75. In 1973-74 tax revenue was $17,133 million or 88% of the total and non-tax revenue was $2,250 million or 12%.

Tax revenue increased by $5,195 million over 1973-74 receipts; the yield from personal income taxes was $2,143 million higher, from corporation income taxes $874 million higher, from sales tax $207 million higher, from oil export tax and charge $1,383 million, from custom duties $424 million higher and from estate taxes $7 million lower. Non-tax revenue increased by $331 million; return on investments was $342 million higher, Post Office revenue was $6 million higher and other non-tax receipts were $17 million lower than in 1973-74.

[1] Applicable to exports made since the end of March 1974.

The amount of revenue is affected by changes in taxation rates, by changes in the base on which taxes are calculated and by variations in economic conditions. Income tax liability relates to the income of a taxation year but the system of collecting personal and corporation income taxes by instalments produces a distribution of receipts throughout the fiscal year. The distribution of revenue receipts between months may be affected by administrative factors.

Under fiscal arrangements that became operative in 1962, the federal government entered into tax-collection agreements under which it collects the provincial personal income taxes of all provinces except Quebec and the provincial corporation income taxes of all provinces except Ontario and Quebec.

Personal and corporation income taxes collected by the federal government on behalf of the provinces, and subsequently remitted to the provinces, are not included in the tables shown here.

During the year collections were $3,420 million and payments to the provinces were $3,616 million.

Tax Revenue

The effect of the tax changes implemented in 1974-75 was to moderate the growth in revenue which ordinarily would accompany a period of rapid growth in the economy.

As is shown in Table 1, tax revenue totalled $22,328 million in 1974-75 compared with $17,133 million in 1973-74. The main changes were increases of $2,143 million in personal income taxes, $874 million in corporation income tax, $207 million in sales tax, $1,445 million in oil export charge and $424 million in customs import duties.

Table 3 presents a comparison for the latest five fiscal years of tax revenue and old age security taxes on a per capita basis. Tax revenue which was $530.75 per capita in 1970-71 was $1,095.52 per capita in 1974-75; old age security taxes which were $89.54 per capita in 1970-71 were $139.35 in 1974-75.

Chart 4-B

Tax on personal income

In 1974-75 personal income tax was again the largest source of government revenue. Its yield (excluding credits to the old age security fund) was $10,068 million or 40% of all budgetary revenue compared with $7,926 million or 41% in 1973-74. The increase of $2,143 million was due mainly to a higher level of personal incomes in 1974-75.

As is shown in Table 2, personal income taxes deducted at source were considerably lower in April, May and June. This was due to the unusually large refund payments made in these months. Table 2 also shows that other collections, which are direct payments by individuals, were higher in May reflecting the payment of balances due for the taxation year 1973 and also in July, October and January reflecting the receipt of quarterly payments.

An amount of $1,642 million in respect of personal income taxes was credited to the old age security fund compared with $1,300 million in 1973-74.

Corporation income tax

Corporation income tax was the second largest source of government revenue. The yield (excluding credits to the old age security fund) was $4,285 million or 17% of total budgetary revenue compared with $3,411 million or 18% in 1973-74. The increase of $874 million was due mainly to higher corporation income during the year.

As reflected in Table 2 collections in April include final payments in respect of the 1973 taxation year.

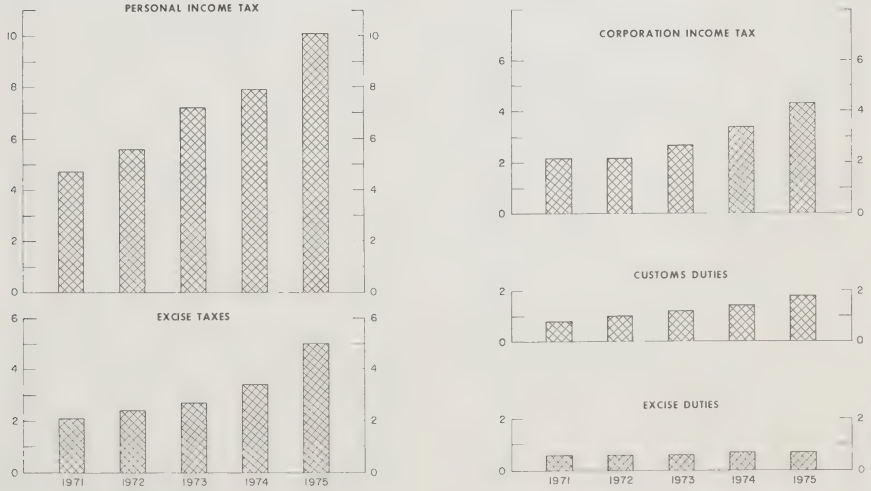
An amount of $551 million in respect of corporate income taxes was credited to the old age security fund compared with $299 million in 1973-74.

Non-resident tax

Revenue in this category is derived from tax withheld from dividends, interest, rents, royalties, alimony and income from estates and trusts paid to non-residents. Collections for 1974-75 were $427 million, an increase of $104 million or 32% over the 1973-74 total.

Excise taxes

Excise taxes including the sales tax, oil export charge and tax totalled $4,983 million, 20% of total budgetary revenue compared with $3,387 million or 18% in 1973-74.



Included in excise tax is $1,445 million in oil export charge, applicable to exports made since the end of March 1974, imposed under the Excise Tax Act. From a revenue standpoint the general sales tax was the most important tax levied under the Excise Tax Act. Receipts (excluding the amount credited to the old age security fund) were $2,900 million, $207 million more than 1973-74 receipts.

Billions of Dollars

An amount of $966 million in respect of sales tax was credited to the old age security fund compared with $898 million in 1973-74.

The yield from other excise taxes levied under the Excise Tax Act, other than the general sales tax and the oil export tax and charge was $413 million, $5 million more than in 1973-74.

Receipts from this source totalled $1,809 million compared with $1,385 million in 1973-74.

Excise duties

Excise duties were levied on alcoholic beverages (other than wines) and tobacco products. (Additional taxes on tobacco products and taxes on wines were levied under the Excise Tax Act). Net receipts in 1974-75 were $748 million compared with $686 million in 1973-74.

Gross receipts of $490 million from duties on alcoholic beverages consisted of $312 million in respect of spirits and $178 million in respect of beer and were $30 million higher than collections of $460 million in 1973-74 of which $284 million was in respect of spirits and $176 million in respect of beer.

Gross receipts of $258 million from duties on tobacco products were $22 million more than in 1973-74.

Refunds and drawbacks of $1 million resulted in net excise duty collections of $748 million in 1974-75. In 1973-74 refunds and drawbacks were $11 million and net receipts were $686 million.

The main changes were increases of $32 million in interest-bearing deposits with chartered banks, $49 million in Exchange Fund profits ($269 million compared with $220 million in 1973-74), $1 million from interest from loans to provinces, ($1 million in 1973-74).

Other receipts included $125 million from interest-bearing deposits with chartered banks ($93 million in 1973-74), $21 million from national governments ($22 million in 1973-74), $14 million in interest from loans made to the Municipal Development and Loan Board ($13 million in 1973-74) and $27 million in interest from loans and advances made under the Soldier Settlement and Veterans' Land Act ($26 million in 1973-74).

Post Office revenue

Gross receipts from Post Office operations were $611 million but authorized disbursements from revenue for salaries and rent allowances, other allowances and commissions at semi-staff and revenue offices, commissions at sub-offices, transit charges on Canadian mail forwarded through and delivered in foreign countries, etc., in the amount of $80 million and revenue credits to expenditure of $46 million resulted in net revenue of $485 million. In 1973-74 comparable amounts were gross receipts of $586 million, authorized disbursements of $74 million, credits to expenditure of $32 million and net revenue of $480 million.

As net revenue was $485 million, there was an operating deficit of $247 million. In 1973-74 net costs of $591 million and net revenue of $480 million resulted in an operating deficit of $111 million.

Refunds received in 1974-75 of expenditure made in prior years totalled $84 million compared with $99 million in 1973-74.

Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation received $57 million in reimbursement of losses resulting from the operation of public housing projects, the Department of Regional Economic Expansion received $4 million resulting from adjustments to projects financed by the Atlantic Development Board, the Department of National Defence received $4 million mainly from adjustments to cost audits and to adjustments on contracts with the United States Government and the Department of Veterans Affairs received $3 million mainly from refunds of veterans pensions, allowances and re-establishment credits.

Services and service fees

Revenue from this source was $45 million compared with $35 million in 1973-74.

The Department of Agriculture received $12 million mainly for services in connection with the inspection, weighing, storage and elevation of grain and the Department of Consumer and Corporate Affairs received $3 million from weights and measures and electricity and gas inspection fees.

Proceeds from sales

Receipts of $16 million were $5 million less than in 1973-74. The Department of Supply and Services received $6 million from the sales of surplus crown assets; Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation received $2 million from the sales of properties; and the Department of Agriculture received $4 million from the sale of livestock and produce.

Bullion and coinage

This revenue which is derived from transactions in the bullion and coinage working capital advance account was $11 million less than in 1973-74.

Premium, discount and exchange

These transactions resulted in a net revenue of $3 million in 1974-75 compared with a net expenditure of $17 million in 1973-74.

Miscellaneous

Other non-tax revenue of $36 million was $4 million less than in 1973-74.

Receipts and Revenue Credited to Appropriations

Receipts and revenue arising from the activities of particular programs which are credited to the appropriations of those programs and which are not included in budgetary revenue totalled $714 million in 1974-75 compared with $567 million in 1973-74.

The following table summarizes these receipts by departments for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1975 with comparative figures for 1973-74.

APPROPRIATIONS

Although a major part of the expenses of the public service is defrayed from moneys granted by Parliament in the annual Appropriation Acts, substantial payments are made under authority of other acts which authorize expenditures out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund for specified purposes and for such definite or indefinite amounts and during such periods of time as the acts may prescribe. The spending authority granted in the annual Appropriation Acts differs from that granted in "statutory" authorities in that it is usually for a specific amount and of definite duration and, unless there is provision to the contrary in the wording of the vote, any unused balance lapses at the end of the fiscal year for which it is granted, as provided by section 30 of the Financial Administration Act.

Table 1 gives a summary of budgetary expenditure provided under the authority of the annual Appropriation Acts and various statutory authorities for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1975. A statement in greater detail, classified by departments, is given in section 10 of this volume.

In addition an amount of $52 million was carried forward from 1973-74 in accordance with provisions made in the original appropriations.

Budgetary expenditures during 1974-75, under authority of these appropriations, totalled $12,924 million, consequently, $723 million, or about 5% of the amount provided by the Appropriation Acts for budgetary expenditures, was unspent at the close of the fiscal year. Of this amount $690 million lapsed in accordance with section 30 of the Financial Administration Act and $33 million was available for expenditure in 1975-76 in accordance with provisions of the Appropriation Acts.

Budgetary expenditures in 1974-75 under the authority of statutes authorizing payments from the Consolidated Revenue Fund for specific purposes without further appropriation amounted in the aggregate to $13,131 million, accounting for approximately 50% of the total budgetary expenditures of $26,055 million. A comparative summary of these statutory expenditures by principal classes is shown in the following table.

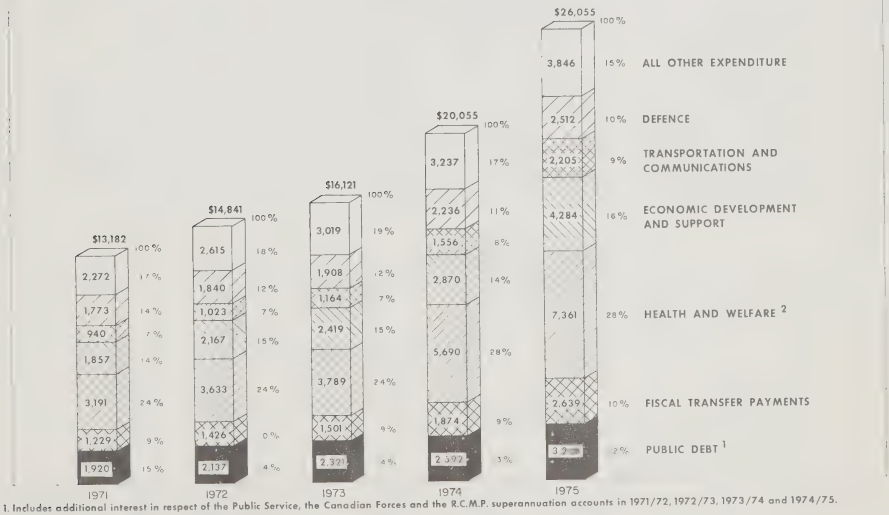
EXPENDITURES

As statements of accountability to Parliament, it is appropriate that the expenditures should be reported on the basis of the classifications adopted in the Appropriation Acts and the Estimates, so in the accounting statements in subsequent sections of this report and in the analysis of the year's expenditures later in this section of the survey these are the classifications that have been followed. However, analyses of expenditure by function or purpose on the one hand, and by object or type of goods or service acquired on the other, supplement the information contained in statements of expenditure by departmental or administrative units.

EXPENDITURE BY FUNCTION



The government's budgetary expenditure classified on a functional basis is summarized in Table 3 with comparative figures for the previous four fiscal years.

The largest category of expenditure under the functional classification is health and welfare which accounted for $7,361 million or 28% of total expenditures.

Expenditures for economic development and support were $4,284 million or 16%, under the defence category $2,512 million or 10% and under public debt charges they were $3,208 million or 12%.

EXPENDITURE BY MAJOR CLASSIFICATION

Expenditure is usually greater towards the end of the fiscal year because many construction contracts which are let in the early part of the year do not come up for payment until some months later and deficits sustained by crown corporations and losses incurred in the operation of various agencies and accounts are not known until the end or towards the end of the fiscal year. Also, under section 30 of the Financial Administration Act, for thirty days after March 31, payments properly applicable to the old year may be made and charged to that year's accounts. Table 4 presents a summary of expenditure by months for 1974-75.

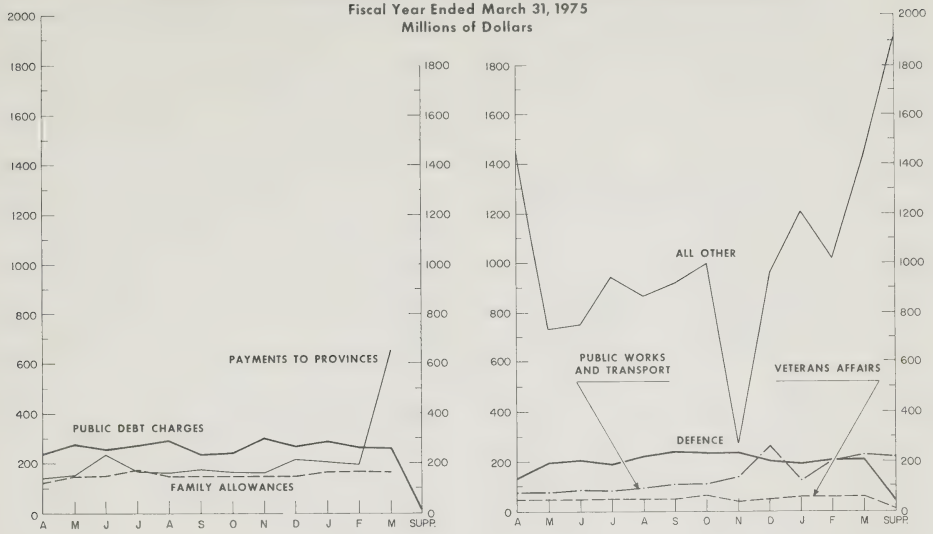

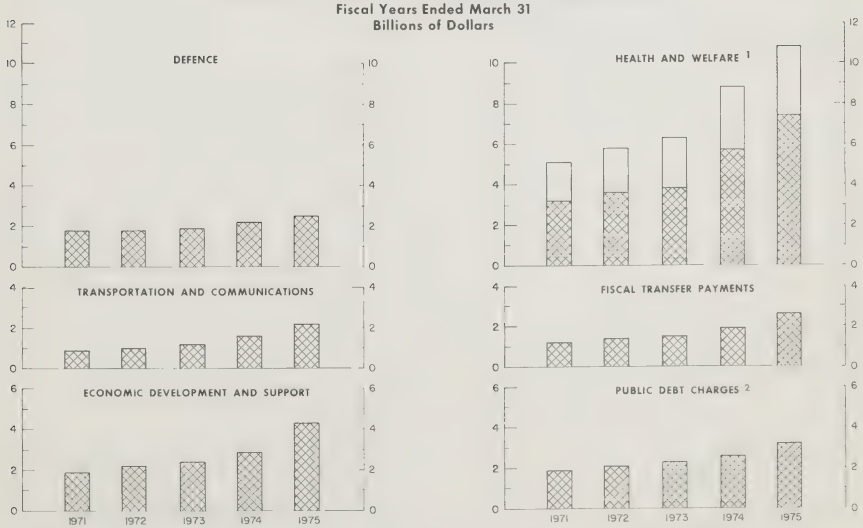

Chart 5-C

PRINCIPAL CLASSES OF BUDGETARY EXPENDITURE

Fiscal Years Ended March 31

Billions of Dollars

1. The unshaded areas of the columns in the chart for health and welfare represent payments out of old age security fund not charged to budgetary expenditure.
2. Includes additional interest in respect of the Public Service, the Canadian Forces and the R.C.M.P. superannuation accounts.

Defence

Expenditures of the Department of National Defence did not follow any definite monthly pattern with $1,183 million or 47% being spent in the first six months and $1,325 million or 53% in the remainder of the fiscal year, of which $254 million or 10% was spent in March and the supplementary period. This reflects payments on construction and other contracts coming due late in the year.

Public debt charges

Monthly charges in this category reflect some variations due to adjustments in the accrual of interest.

Payments to provinces

The larger payment in January, 1975 was due to equalization payments under the Federal-Provincial Fiscal Arrangements Act. The larger payment in March, 1975 was due in part to payments under the Oil Export Tax Act.

Public Works and Transport

Expenditure under these categories was $509 million or 28% for the first six months compared with $1,318 million or 72% for the remainder of the fiscal year. This was due mainly to construction contracts coming due for payment late in the year and to payments by the Department of Transport in December to the railways for revenues foregone by maintaining existing freight rates in 1974 and in the supplementary period in respect of the Canadian National Railways.

All other expenditure

Some of the large items in this grouping are (a) charges in the supplementary period of $298 million to cover the 1974-75 net operating loss of the Agricultural Stabilization Board and (b) charges each month in respect of total payments for the fiscal year of $1,308 million under the Hospital Insurance and Diagnostic Services Act, $681 million for the development and utilization of manpower, $661 million under the Canada Assistance Plan and $504 million in post-secondary education payments.

EXPENDITURE BY STANDARD OBJECT

In Table 5 a comparative summary of budgetary expenditure by standard object is presented for the fiscal years 1973-74 and 1974-75. A more detailed statement of the 1974-75 expenditure by standard object and special categories, as set out in the Estimates and classified by departments, is presented in section 10 of this volume.

Grants, contributions and other transfer payments were again the largest category and accounted for $13,893 million or 53% of the total budgetary expenditure compared with $9,968 million or 50% in 1973-74. Payments included fiscal transfer payments to provinces $2,639 million, payments under the Hospital Insurance and Diagnostic Services Act $1,308 million, family allowances $1,824 million, Canada Assistance Plan payments $661 million and post-secondary education payments $504 million.

Salaries and wages accounted for $4,252 million or 16% of total expenditure compared with $3,587 million or 18% in 1973-74. The increase of $665 million was due mainly to higher salary rates.

[1] Amends reporting in previous year's Public Accounts.

Public debt charges totalled $3,208 million or 12% of the total compared with $2,592 million or 13% in 1973-74. The increase of $616 million was due to an increase in unmatured debt and to higher interest rates.

EXPENDITURE BY MINISTRY

In Table 6 the programs and agencies for which a minister is responsible or reports to Parliament are grouped together under one total and classified under operating expenditure, capital expenditure and grants and contributions.

Total budgetary expenditure of $26,055 million consisted of $11,012 million for operating, $1,238 million for capital and $13,805 million for grants and contributions. In 1973-74 total expenditures of $20,055 million consisted of $9,118 million for operating, $949 million for capital and $9,988 million for grants and contributions.

The increase of $6,000 million in 1974-75 expenditure over 1973-74 expenditure was due mainly to increases of $1,389 million under Finance, $275 million under National Defence, $1,424 million under National Health and Welfare, $129 million under Secretary of State, $475 million under Transport and $48 million under Treasury Board.

Public debt charges

Public debt charges consist of interest on public debt, annual amortization of bond discounts and commissions, cost of issuing new loans, other costs incurred in servicing the public debt and additional interest in respect of superannuation accounts. In 1973-74 additional interest of $212 million for the superannuation accounts of the Department of National Defence, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and Treasury Board was charged to the budgetary expenditure of the Department of Finance. Total charges were $3,208 million for 1974-75 or 12% of all budgetary expenditure compared with $2,592 million or 13% for 1973-74.

Interest on public debt totalled $3,164 million of which $2,340 million was in respect of unmatured debt and $824 million in respect of other liabilities. In 1973-74 total interest was $2,548 million of which $1,858 million was for unmatured debt and $690 million for other liabilities.

The increase of $482 million in interest on unmatured debt reflected an increase in unmatured debt which rose from $29,171 million at March 31, 1974 to $33,086 million at March 31, 1975 and an increase in interest rates. The average interest rate on the unmatured debt rose from 6.70% at March 31, 1974 to 7.24% at March 31, 1975. The increase in interest on other liabilities was due mainly to increases of $106 million in respect of the public service superannuation account and $39 million in respect of the Canadian forces superannuation account.

Other public debt charges at $44 million were the same as in 1973-74.

Table 15 shows the liability as at March 31 and interest charges for the fiscal year ended March 31, for the years 1971 to 1975 inclusive, with respect to unmatured debt, deposit and trust accounts, annuity, insurance and pension accounts and refundable corporation tax:

[1] These amounts of amortized discount which were temporarily recorded in the "Unamortized Loan Flotation Costs" account were credited to that account and were charged to interest on public debt following the year of issue. The effect of these transactions are reflected in section 12.

When considering the magnitude of these public debt charges and the burden they place upon the public treasury, it must be borne in mind that a substantial portion of the debt is attributable to, or is invested in, productive or earning assets. Therefore, in calculating the net burden of the government's annual interest charges, the income derived from loans, investments and other productive assets must be taken into account. For 1974-75 this income totalled $1,831 million as shown in the non-tax revenue section under the heading "return on investments". This amount deducted from the gross total of $3,164 million for interest as shown in Table 16 leaves a net amount of $1,333 million compared with a net amount of $1,058 million in 1973-74. Measured as a percentage of the net debt the burden of the net annual interest charges was 6.86% in 1974-75 compared with 5.84% in 1973-74. As a percentage of the gross national product for the calendar year ending within the fiscal year, the relative burden was 0.91% compared with 0.87% in 1973-74.

Table 16 presents the gross interest charges, the return on investments, the net interest charges, the net debt and the net interest as a percentage of the net debt for the fiscal years ended March 31, 1971 to 1975 inclusive:

INCOME SECURITY AND SOCIAL ASSISTANCE

Expenditures for income security and social assistance totalled $2,867 million in 1974-75, $1,073 million more than the total of $1,794 million in 1973-74, due mainly to an increase in family allowances payments and payments to provinces under the Canada assistance plan.

Family allowances

Family allowances, as defined in the Family Allowances Act 1973, are payable in respect of all children under 18 years of age who are dependant on their parents. They are paid only to residents of Canada or persons outside of Canada when that parent or child is temporarily absent or when a Canadian family is stationed abroad and subject to Canadian income tax. The former requirement of school attendance has been dropped. The allowance must be declared as income for tax purposes by the parent who claims the child as a tax exemption. The rate of allowances paid can be decided upon by the provinces within certain constraints. However, the provinces may vary the rate to be paid on the basis of the child's age or size of a family or any combination of both. The constraints are that the rate cannot be less than $13.25 per child and the average rate per month paid on behalf of all children within a province cannot exceed $22.08.

Canada assistance plan

Payments to the provinces under the Canada assistance plan totalled $661 million compared with $506 million in 1973-74. The Canada Assistance Plan Act, which was enacted in 1966, authorized the federal government to enter into agreements with the provinces for sharing the costs of assistance provided by the provinces, territories and municipalities to persons in need and welfare services provided to persons in need or likely to be in need, including the costs of food, shelter, clothing, fuel and utilities, essential household supplies, expenses incidental to a trade, care in a home for special care, travel and transportation, funerals and burials, health care services, prescribed welfare services including rehabilitation, and comfort allowances. The rate of the federal contribution is 50% of the shareable costs; the rates for assistance granted and the specific conditions of eligibility applied are determined by the provinces and their municipalities and take into account the budgetary requirements as well as the income and resources of the applicants. Contributions under this plan have replaced certain contributions which formerly had been made under the Old Age Assistance Act, the Disabled Persons Act, the Blind Persons Act and the Unemployment Assistance Act.

Under federal-provincial agreement, the Province of Quebec has opted out of a major portion of this program.

Non-budgetary transactions are those which increase or decrease the government's asset and liability accounts and do not enter into the calculation of the annual budgetary surplus or deficit. The discussion of non-budgetary transactions in this section excludes unmatured debt transactions which are described in Section 7, as well as changes in the cash position which are given in Section 8. The related balances on asset and liability accounts at the beginning and end of the fiscal year and the effect of non-budgetary transactions during the year are examined in Section 9.

Both assets and liabilities are influenced by non-budgetary transactions. The transactions described in this section which influence assets consists mainly of loans and advances to and repayments by crown corporations and other government agencies, national, provincial and municipal bodies, international organizations and other borrowers. Those leading mainly to changes in liabilities relate to social security accounts, other annuity, insurance and pension accounts and deposit and trust accounts held or administered by the government. Certain non-budgetary transactions affect both assets and liabilities; of these, the most important are foreign exchange reserve transactions. The receipts and payments through the main categories of non-budgetary accounts, in 1973-74 and 1974-75 other than those for unmatured debt and cash, are summarized in Table 1.

The total of non-budgetary receipts in 1974-75 rose by 26% to $28,497 million. Non-budgetary payments increased at a rate of 24% to $28,858 million. As a result, the net amount required to finance non-budgetary transactions decreased from $646 million in 1973-74 to $361 million in 1974-75. Table 1 shows that there was a decrease of $592 million in the net funds required to finance the social security accounts, an increase of $474 million in net funds required for loans and an increase of $436 million in net funds required to finance additions to foreign exchange reserves.

[2]Includes $1,107.4 million in 1973–74 and $1,284.9 million in 1974–75 in purchases of bonds by the Canada Pension Plan. Also excludes $62.5 million in 1974–75 in repayments of advances by the Unemployment Insurance Account.

Social Security Accounts

The three social security accounts included under this heading are those of Old Age Security, the Canada Pension Plan and Unemployment Insurance. Their receipts, payments, disposals of surplus receipts and financing of any excess of payments are shown in Table 2.

The total receipts of these social security schemes increased by 27% from $6,054 million in 1973-74 to $7,691 million in 1974-75. In the same period, their payments rose by 16% from $6,606 million to $7,656 million. As a result, their combined deficit of receipts rose from $552 million in 1973-74 to a combined surplus of $35 million in 1974-75.

Of these three accounts, the Canada Pension Plan had a net amount available for investment. Its available funds of $1,329 million were used to acquire $1,276 million of provincial bonds, $9 million of bonds of the Government of Canada and to increase its deposit with the Receiver General by $44 million. The Unemployment Insurance Account had an excess of $40 million of disbursements over receipts. The disbursements in the account include repayment of advances of $63 million. The Old Age Security Fund had an excess of $32 million of payments over receipts which reduced its deposits with the Receiver General.

The Old Age Security Fund

The Old Age Security Act governs the payments of old age pensions to all persons who meet the statutory residence requirements for the receipt of such pensions. This Act established the Old Age Security Fund which receives certain tax revenues and from which old age pensions and the guaranteed income supplement are paid.

Prior to January 1, 1972 the Old Age Security Fund was financed by special taxes which at that time were a 4% tax on personal incomes (subject to a maximum of $240 per taxpayer), a 3% tax on corporate incomes and a 3% sales tax.

The Old Age Security Act was amended effective January 1, 1972 to provide for the repeal of these taxes and for the crediting to the fund of an amount estimated to be equal to what would have been credited to the fund had those taxes not been repealed. In 1974-75, the combined yield of these taxes rose by 27% to $3,159 million compared with an increase of 13% in 1973-74.

Pension rates have also been increased by amendments to the Act over the years to the point where they were $108.14 per month in March 1974 and, as a result of subsequent amendments, are subject to quarterly adjustments in accordance with changes in the Consumer Price Index. The monthly amount of the basic pension in March 1975 was $120.06.

The guaranteed income supplement, first introduced in 1966-67, was payable at a rate of up to 40% of the basic pension depending upon the level of a pensioner's income in the preceding year. Subsequent amendments have led to the situation where, in March 1974, the maximum supplement for a single pensioner was $75.85 subject to quarterly escalation in line with changes in the Consumer Price Index ($67.37 each for married pensioners). The maximum supplement in March 1975 rose to $84.21 ($74.79 each for married pensioners).

During 1974-75, pension payments of $3,445 million exceeded receipts of $3,413 million resulting in a balance of $32 million at March 31, 1975. Receipts consisted of $966 million from sales tax, $1,642 million from the tax on personal incomes, $551 million from the tax on corporation income, and a budgetary transfer of $254 million to cover the deficit created during the year due to quarterly escalation. In 1973-74, payments of $3,035 million exceeded receipts of $2,732 million by $303 million.

The provincial distribution of old age pension including guaranteed income supplement payments in 1973-74 and 1974-75 is shown in Table 3.

Canada Pension Plan

The Canada Pension Plan was established by an Act which was proclaimed on May 5, 1965. The Plan is financed by contributions of 1.8% of income on earnings of employees, with matching contributions by their employers, and by contributions of 3.6% of the income of self-employed persons, (subject to a maximum payment of $106.20); it also receives investment income. Contributions are payable by an employee who earns over $700 per year and by self-employed persons earning over $800 per year.

[1] Includes $838 million in 1974-75 and $760 million in 1973-74 for guaranteed income supplement.

Contributions to the Plan rose by 22% to $1,239 million in 1974-75, as compared with $1,019 million in 1973-74. The investment income of the Plan rose, however, by 19% from $424 million in 1973-74 to $504 million in 1974-75. This proportionate rise in investment income was mainly a result of the increase investments.

The benefits payable under the Canada Pension Plan are retirement pensions, survivors' benefits payable to widows, disabled widowers, orphans or as a lump sum death benefit, and disability pensions. Retirement pensions will not be payable at their full rate until January 1, 1976, i.e., ten years after the Plan first received contributions, so that those now receiving retirement pensions receive reduced amounts. However, those who became eligible in 1974-75 could receive a higher proportion of the full retirement pensions because they had contributed for a greater part of the initial 10 year period than others who received retirement pensions in earlier years. Partly because of these changes and partly because of increases in the number of pensioners, pensions and other benefits payable by the Plan increased from $279 million in 1973-74 to $399 million in 1974-75.

The pensions, other benefits and expenses of the Plan are, as yet, still small in relation to its receipts. As a result, the Plan had $1,141 million in 1973-74 and $1,329 million in 1974-75 available for investment. The greater part of these sums was invested in bonds issued by the provincial governments to the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund because the legislation governing the Plan provides that funds not required for benefits and expenses in the following three month period are to be made available as loans to provincial governments and shared by them in the same proportions as their residents contribute to the Plan. Any sums available to but not borrowed by the provinces are invested in bonds of Canada. The effects of these legal requirements were that $1,276 million of provincial bonds and $9 million of bonds of the Government of Canada were purchased for the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund in 1974-75 as compared with $1,099 million and $8 million respectively in 1973-74. The remaining balances of $34 million in 1973-74 and $44 million in 1974-75 were placed on deposit with the Receiver General.

Unemployment Insurance

The Unemployment Insurance Act, 1955, as amended, provided for a compulsory contributory unemployment insurance program applying to everyone employed under a contract of service subject to certain exceptions. The main exceptions were members of the Armed Forces and of the federal, provincial and local government services and persons earning over $7,800 per annum.

The Unemployment Insurance Act, 1971, which was assented to June 23, 1971, replaced the former Act. Under the new Act, those main exceptions noted above have been removed and all employment in Canada (with minor exceptions) is ensurable effective from January 2, 1972.

The new Act also authorized the establishment in the accounts of Canada of an account to be known as the Unemployment Insurance Account and that the balance of the amount standing to the credit of the Unemployment Insurance Fund under the former Act on June 27, 1971, together with interest accrued thereon to that day, be credited thereto.

The Act also provides that all amounts received under the Act as or on account of premiums, fines, penalties, interest and repayment of overpayments of benefits, and all amounts collected by the Commission for services rendered to other government departments or agencies or the public, shall be paid into the Consolidated Revenue Fund and shall be credited to the Unemployment Insurance Account; that any other amounts provided out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund for any purpose related to unemployment insurance that is authorized by an appropriation by Parliament and the administration of which falls to the Commission shall be credited to the Unemployment Insurance Account; that the Minister of Finance may authorize, in accordance with such terms and conditions and at such rates as he may prescribe, the payment of interest on the balance in the Unemployment Insurance Account, and such interest shall be credited to the account; and that there shall be charged to the account all amounts paid as or on account of benefits under this Act and the costs of administration of the Act.

Receipts in 1974-75 with comparable amounts for 1973-74 shown in brackets totalled $2,520 million ($2,123 million) and included contributions of $2,519 million ($1,876 million) and investment income of $1 million ($2 million).

Disbursements in 1974-75 totalled $2,560 million of which $169 million were administrative costs. In 1973-74 disbursements were $2,160 million and administrative costs were $168 million.

Maximum weekly contributions were $2.38 and $2.59 respectively in 1974 and 1975 depending upon the contributor's income. For the same periods, maximum weekly benefits were $113.33 and $123.33 depending upon the level of average weekly contributions and the circumstances of the recipient.

In 1974-75, there was a repayment of advances in the amount of $63 million.

Other Annuity, Insurance and Pension Accounts

Table 4 summarizes the transactions of the superannuation accounts for the Public Service, Canadian Forces and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, the government annuities account and a number of smaller insurance and pensions accounts. This table shows that the transactions of the three major superannuation accounts were the greater part of all transactions in this group. The receipts of all annuity, insurance and pension accounts rose by $499 million in 1974-75 to $2,219 million while their payments rose by $24 million to $449 million. As a result, their net receipts rose by 37% from $1,296 million in 1973-74 to $1,770 million in 1974-75.

Government Annuities Account

Receipts of interest and premiums by the government annuities account were $49 million and $5 million respectively in 1974-75 as compared with corresponding figures of $50 million and $6 million in 1973-74. Its disbursements in 1973-74 of $75 million and in 1974-75 of $74 million were almost entirely matured annuity, commuted value, death benefit, premium refunds and premium withdrawal payments.

Other Insurance and Pension Accounts

There are a number of other insurance and pension accounts operated by the Government of Canada. Transactions on behalf of the public service death benefit account, the regular forces death benefit account and the veterans insurance fund account for the greater part of all transactions by these accounts.

The total receipts of these accounts were $68 million in 1973-74 and $84 million in 1974-75 while their payments decreased from $48 million to $31 million in the same period.

Loans to and investments in Crown Corporations

In 1974-75, the total of loans and investments to crown corporations increased by $1,583 million, or 47%, over the previous year. Advances rose from $1,678 million in 1973-74 to $2,239 million in 1974-75. The principal borrower continued to be Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation which received $1,022 million, or 46% of the total. Six other crown corporations—Air Canada, Atomic Energy of Canada Limited, Canadian National Railways, Export Development Corporation, Farm Credit Corporation and the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority together received $951 million, or 42% of the total. Loans to and investments in all other crown corporations were only $265 million or 12% of all such loans and investments. This pattern of lending and investment in 1974-75 was very similar to that in 1973-74 when the same six corporations received 87% of all loans to and investments in crown corporations. The amounts lent to or invested in individual corporations are shown in Table 8.

Repayments of such loans and investments rose from $603 million in 1973-74 to $656 million in 1974-75.

Additional information on loans to and investments in the seven crown corporations which accounted for most of the borrowing by these bodies is given in Table 9.

Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation

The objectives of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation are "to promote the construction of new houses, the repair and modernization of existing houses, and the improvement of housing and living conditions in Canada". To fulfil these objectives, the Corporation borrows large sums of money from the Government of Canada and relends these sums to other borrowers engaged in a variety of housing activities.

The greater part of the Corporation's borrowing is to obtain funds for direct lending for home-ownership and rental housing, including loans to limited dividend companies to finance low-rental housing projects and loans for public housing projects. Its borrowing for the purposes is authorized by the National Housing Act, 1954, as amended. In 1974-75, the government lent the Corporation $496 million for these purposes, an increase of 30% as compared with the corresponding figures of $381 million in 1973-74. Since its repayments of such loans rose by 5% to $255 million from $242 million in the same period, net borrowing by the Corporation to finance direct lending, limited dividend and public housing increased by 73% in 1974-75 to $241 million.

The Corporation also borrowed in 1974-75 to finance municipal sewage treatment projects, university housing, federal-provincial housing projects and urban renewal. In 1974-75, its borrowing for these purposes was $526 million as compared with $303 million in 1973-74. After deducting repayments made by the Corporation, its net borrowing to finance such projects rose from $236 million in 1973-74 to $494 million in 1974-75.

The total of outstanding loans to and investments in crown corporations at March 31, 1974 and March 31, 1975 is discussed in the Section "Asset and Liability Accounts".

There was therefore some change in the pattern of the Corporation's borrowing in 1974-75. In that year its net borrowing for direct lending, limited dividend and public housing was 33% of its total net borrowing as compared with 37% in 1973-74.

Atomic Energy of Canada Limited

Atomic Energy of Canada Limited borrows to finance nuclear power stations and electricity transmission lines. In 1974-75, it borrowed $55 million to finance the Glace Bay Heavy Water Plant rehabilitation, $42 million for Heavy Water inventory and $6 million to finance the Nelson River transmission line project. Its total borrowing of $122 million in 1974-75 was $41 million more than its borrowing of $81 million in 1973-74.

Air Canada

In 1974-75, Air Canada received $140 million in loans under the Canadian National Railways Financing and Guarantee Acts to finance its capital expenditures for the acquisition of aircraft, engines, spare parts, other equipment and buildings. In addition, Air Canada obtains interim financing to cover its seasonal and other deficits. Such interim financing is repaid from seasonal profits but, since such advances and repayments are related to a calendar year, they are not necessarily equal in any fiscal year.

Canadian National Railways

Under the Refunding Act, 1955, the Canadian National Railways may borrow from the government to finance its refunding of maturing debt; and under the Financing and Guarantee Acts it may borrow from the government to finance capital expenditures.

Under the terms of Section 6 (1) of the CNR Capital Revision Act, 1952, as extended to the annual Financing and Guarantee Acts, the government may invest in the 4% preferred stock of the company. During 1974-75 the government invested $139 million in such stock.

The CNR also obtains interim financing to cover its operating deficits.

Export Development Corporation

The Export Development Corporation borrows from the Minister of Finance in terms of the Export Development Act. In 1974-75 its gross borrowing of $209 million was the same as its gross borrowing of 1973-74. After deducting repayments made by the Corporation, its net borrowing in 1974-75 was $93 million, or 35% less than its net borrowing of $142 million in 1973-74.

The St. Lawrence Seaway Authority

No loans to the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority were made in 1974-75. Deferred interest, net of payments made by the Authority, fell from $25 million in 1973-74 to $14 million in 1974-75.

The Farm Credit Corporation borrows in order to make loans to farmers and extend credit to farm machinery syndicates. In 1974-75 it borrowed $304 million for these purposes an increase of $62 million from its corresponding borrowings in 1973-74. Its repayments decreased by $9 million over 1973-74.

Other Crown Corporations

Loans to and investments in other crown corporations were relatively small in 1974-75. Their total before repayment was $265 million, of which the major items were $130 million to the Canadian Dairy Commission, loans of $43 million to the Northern Canada Power Commission, loans of $14 million to the Northern Transportation Company Limited and $27 million to the National Harbours Board.

Repayments of loans by other crown corporations in 1974-75 were $142 million. The largest repayments were $100 million by the Canadian Dairy Commission and $11 million by the Freshwater Fish Marketing Corporation.

Other Domestic Loans and Investments

Sums advanced in the form of loans and investments to governments, individuals, businesses and other bodies in Canada are shown in Table 10. The total of such loans rose by 38% from $1,572 million in 1973-74 to $2,164 million in 1974-75.

Loans to Provinces

Loans to provinces decreased by $13 million to $257 million in 1974-75. The largest items were loans of $28 million to New Brunswick and $72 million to Quebec for loans for special areas assistance. Miscellaneous loans of $111 million were made to finance winter capital projects. In 1973-74, such loans amounted to $121 million. Repayments decreased in 1974-75 to $87 million.

Also included in these loans are net overpayments of $16 million made to various provinces arising out of payments under the Provincial Tax Agreement.

Loans to Territories

Loans to the Northwest and Yukon Territories increased from $25 million in 1973-74 to $50 million in 1974-75. These loans are used by the Territorial Governments to finance capital expenditures and provide mortgage loans for housing.

Veterans' Land Act Fund

The Veterans' Land Act fund records advances made under the Veterans' Land Act, for the acquisition, by the Director, of properties, buildings, materials, livestock, farm equipment and commercial fishing equipment for purposes of the Act, for sale to qualified veterans of world war 2 and Korea under sales agreements which carry specified conditional benefits if the terms of such agreements are adhered to by the veterans, and for progress payments to veterans during construction of housing. During 1974-75 advances amounted to $68 million and repayments were $54 million, resulting in a balance of $559 million at March 31, 1975. In 1973-74 comparable amounts were advances of $65 million and repayments of $56 million bringing the balance to $544 million at March 31, 1974.

Partly offsetting these advances is the reserve for conditional benefits under the Act which consists of amounts

As and when conditional benefits are earned the amounts are charged to the reserve and credited to the advances. During 1973-74 charges were $4 million and credits were $5 million resulting in a balance of $31 million at March 31, 1974.

Municipal Development and Loan Board Advances

Under the Municipal Development and Loan Act, advances were made to the Municipal Development and Loan Board to enable it to lend to municipalities for the augmentation or acceleration of municipal capital work programs. These advances are now being repaid. Repayments in 1974-75 were $11 million.

Departmental Working Capital Advances

In 1974-75 total advances were $1,605 million and total repayments were $1,462 million.

The largest items were loans of $182 million to finance the construction of international airports to serve Montreal and Toronto, $238 million for the Airports Revolving Fund, $298 million advanced to the Agricultural Commodities Stabilization Board, $262 million in advances to provide for the new olympic coins, and $147 million in advances to the Supply Revolving Fund.

Repayment of such loans amounted to $1,009 million.

Miscellaneous Loans and Investments

Other loans and investments during the year included $50 million to Canada Development Corporation and $13 million to Crown Assets Disposal Corporation.

External Loans and Investments

External loans and investments consist of loans to national governments, subscriptions to the capital of international organizations (other than subscriptions treated as part of the foreign exchange reserves of Canada) and loans and advances to international bodies. In 1974-75 the total of such loans and investments was $372 million as compared with $308 million in 1973-74.

The greater part of all sums advanced abroad consists of special loan assistance to developing countries. In 1974-75, such loan assistance amounted to $230 million, an increase of $47 million over the 1973-74 total of $183 million. In 1974-75 India received $55 million. In 1973-74 India received $57 million of the total.

Subscriptions to the capital of the International Development Association were $61 million in 1973-74 and $76 million in 1974-75. Other sums lent to or invested in international organizations increased by $2 million to $23 million in 1974-75.

The remaining transactions with governments abroad were repayments of $22 million by the United Kingdom in terms of the United Kingdom Financial Agreement Act and of $15 million of loans made to Belgium, France and the Netherlands under the Export Credits Insurance Act.

Foreign Exchange Reserve Transactions

Foreign exchange reserve transactions, shown in Table 12, consist of advances to the Exchange Fund to enable it to acquire gold or foreign currency, repayments of such advances by the Exchange Fund and transactions with the International Monetary Fund including subscriptions to its capital, the receipt and disposal of Special Drawing Rights (S.D.R.s) and the issue and redemption of non-interest-bearing notes. All these transactions are undertaken in order either to finance increases in the official international reserves of Canada or to convert these reserves into Canadian dollars. While the Receiver General's deposits in foreign currency are included in Canada's official international reserves, the transactions influencing these deposits are excluded because they are mainly payments abroad for goods, services, pensions, interest and similar items and not transactions which involve conversion between Canadian dollar assets and those foreign currency assets included in Canada's official international reserves.(1)

In 1974-75, advances to the Exchange Fund were $3,990 million, repayments were $4,663 million, leaving a net decrease in advances of $673 million during the year. Transactions with the International Monetary Fund included a revaluation adjustment of $44 million to the Fund due to a depreciation of the Canadian dollar; capital subscriptions are set in S.D.R. units of account so that, when the Canadian dollar is depreciated, additional Canadian dollars must be supplied to the Fund and when the Canadian dollar is appreciated the converse applies. Transactions in non-interest-bearing notes resulted in a net decrease of $74 million. These transactions were due mainly to other countries' dealings in Canadian dollars with the Fund.

There was no allocation of Special Drawing Rights by the International Monetary Fund to Canada during the fiscal year leaving the recorded value of S.D.R.s in the government's books at $370 million at March 31, 1975. These S.D.R.s were, in turn, advanced to the Exchange Fund.

The transactions just described are those through which the Government of Canada financed additions to Canada's official international reserves, other than the Receiver General's working balances in foreign currency, in 1974-75. The change in the Receiver General's foreign currency deposits was relatively small when compared with the transactions just described. Subject to this exception, the net effect of these transactions was to decrease advances of the Government of Canada by $643 million in 1974-75 as compared with a net decrease of $207 million in 1973-74.

Other Non-Budgetary Transactions

The major accounts in which other non-budgetary transactions are recorded are those for provincial tax collection agreements, outstanding cheques, accounts payable, interest accrued, interest due and outstanding, and deferred charges on superannuation accounts.

The provincial tax collection agreements account records transactions arising from federal-provincial tax collection agreements. During the fiscal year 1974-75, the Government of Canada collected $3,420 million of provincial income taxes on behalf of provincial governments of which $2,869 million were personal income tax and $551 million were corporation income tax. In the same period, payments to the provinces of $3,616 million were $196 million more than receipts of which $16 million are reflected as net overpayments made to various provinces and were reclassified as such in Loans to provinces. These receipts and payments were substantially higher than in 1973-74 when $2,752 million of income taxes were collected on behalf of provincial governments and $2,796 million were paid to them.

Outstanding cheques are cheques issued on or before March 31 of each fiscal year and still outstanding at that date. Transactions in 1974-75, resulted in a decrease of $45 million bringing the balance outstanding at the end of the year to $1,237 million.

Accounts payable are cheques issued in April in respect of transactions undertaken during the previous fiscal year ended on March 31. In April 1975 these amounted to $1,049 million compared with $1,178 million in April 1974.

Interest accrued but not paid at March 31, 1975 amounted to $759 million, a net increase of $167 million over the balance at March 31, 1974. Interest due and outstanding was $1,407 million at March 31, 1975, a net increase of $278 million.

Actuarial deficiencies in the superannuation accounts revealed by quinquennial valuations and the cost of benefits as a result of salary increases are set up as deferred charges and amortized to budgetary expenditure over a period of five years. In 1974-75, a total of $1,125 million was added to deferred charges and $607 million was amortized to budgetary expenditure.

The remaining non-budgetary transactions include those recorded in account for cash other than in Receiver General accounts, accounts for securities held in trust, deferred charge accounts not described above, deposit and trust accounts, deferred credit accounts and certain other accounts. The receipts of and payments from these accounts are shown in Table 13.

FINANCING OPERATIONS OF THE GOVERNMENT

In 1974-75, the Government of Canada issued $25,393 million of new bonds and treasury bills and retired $21,478 million of securities. In addition, it purchased a net amount of $13 million of Canada savings bonds for the employees purchase plan. These operations provided a net amount of $3,902 million to finance the other operations of the government and to increase its cash balances, as compared with a net amount of $129 million in 1973-74.

As is shown in Table 1, there were net sales of $672 million in marketable bonds, $725 million in treasury bills, and $9 million in other non-marketable bonds.

With respect to Canada savings bonds there were issues of $6,174 million and retirements of $3,665 million resulting in an increase of $2,509 million.

Marketable bonds

As is shown in Table 2, five times during the fiscal year the government issued bonds payable in Canadian dollars. On four of these occasions, the proceeds were used either in whole or in part to redeem maturing debt. The table also shows that there was a definite increase in interest rates on the new issues with the exception of the December 2, 1974 issues.

For bonds payable in currencies other than Canadian dollars, all operations during the fiscal year were retirements.

Treasury bills

As is shown in Table 3, total treasury bills issued during the fiscal year were $16,910 million and total redemptions were $16,185 million resulting in a net amount of $725 million in new borrowing.

Three-month bills which are issued weekly had a net increase of $330 million and six-month bills which are also issued weekly had a net increase of $195 million. The weekly issue of three-month bills was $225 million. The weekly issue of six-month bills rose from $65 million to $70 million on october 11, fell to $60 million on december 6, rose to $65 million on January 3, and fell to $60 million on March 27.

Other bills, which are issued periodically, are usually for periods of one year or less. At March 31, 1974 there were three of these bills outstanding, a 364-day bill for $125 million which was due on May 10, a 364-day bill for $150 million which was due on November 22, and a 364-day bill for $150 million which was due on February 7, 1975. These were redeemed by proceeds from new issues. During 1974-75 there were four new issues: a 364-day bill for $175 million issued on May 10 and due on May 9, 1975, a 364-day bill for $150 million issued on August 9 and due on August 8, 1975, a 364-day bill for $150 million issued on November 22 and due on November 21, 1975 and a 364-day bill for $150 million issued on February 7, and due on February 6, 1976.

Interest rates on three-month bills fell from 7.05% on January 3, 1975 to 6.26% on February 28, 1975, on six-month bills from 8.89% on October 4, 1974, to 6.21% on March 7, 1975 and on other bills from 8.40% on May 10, 1974 to 6.32% on February 7, 1975.

Non-marketable bonds

The issues in non-marketable bonds were $6,174 million for Canada savings bonds, $9 million for other non-marketable bonds and retirements of $3,665 million for Canada savings bonds, resulting in a net receipt of new money of $2,518 million.

Canada savings bonds which are non-callable but redeemable on demand at any time with accrued interest had a net increase of $2,509 million during the year bringing the balance outstanding at March 31, 1975 to $12,915 million. Gross sales of series 29 were $6,154 million and additional sales of series 28 were $21 million. Redemptions prior to maturity of series 14 to 29 totalled $3,665 million. In 1973-74 sales were $1,141 million and redemptions were $1,724 million resulting in a net decrease of $583 million.

Canada pension plan bonds purchased by the federal government during the year were $9 million. There were no redemptions.

The Public Debt

The public debt of Canada consists of those liabilities which appear on the government's statement of assets and liabilities. In addition the government has certain indirect or contingent obligations such as the guarantee of securities of the Canadian National Railways, insured loans made by approved lending institutions under the National Housing Act and deposits maintained by the chartered banks in the Bank of Canada.

At March 31, 1975 the government's liabilities as recorded on the statement of assets and liabilities totalled $62,696 million and net recorded assets totalled $43,421 million resulting in a net debt of $19,275 million.

The following table shows the gross public debt, the unmatured debt, net recorded assets and the net debt at March 31 for each of the fiscal years 1970-71 to 1974-75 inclusive.

Gross debt

The gross debt of Canada, or the total of liabilities as recorded on the statement of assets and liabilities, was $62,696 million at March 31, 1975 compared with $55,557 million at March 31, 1974, $7,139 million higher. There were net increases of $3,915 million in unmatured debt, $3,067 million in annuity, insurance and pension account balances and $157 million in other liability accounts. Unmatured debt in the amount of $33,086 million was 53% and annuity insurance and pension accounts in the amount of $22,329 million were 36% of total liabilities. At March 31, 1974 unmatured debt was $29,171 million or 53% and annuity, insurance and pension accounts were $19,262 million or 35% of total liabilities.

Net recorded assets

At March 31, 1975 the government's net recorded assets totalled $43,421 million, $5,993 million higher than they were at March 31, 1974. Indirect debt or contingent liabilities

In addition to the direct debt set out in the statement of assets and liabilities, the government has assumed certain indirect or contingent obligations. These consist of securities of the Canadian National Railways, guaranteed as to principal and interest, and a number of miscellaneous guarantees, the chief of which are the guarantee of insured loans made by chartered banks and other approved lending institutions under the National Housing Act, 1954, bank advances to the Canadian Wheat Board, advances under the Export Development Act, loans made by chartered banks and credit unions under the Canada Student Loans Act and bank loans under the Farm Improvement Loans Act.

As the following table shows, these contingent liabilities increased by $1,773 million during the year. Loans in respect of the National Housing Act, 1954 were $11,915 million at December 31, 1974 compared with $11,089 million at December 31, 1973 and bank loans to the Canadian Wheat Board were $1,056 million at March 31, 1975 compared with $443 million at March 31, 1974.

THE CASH POSITION OF THE GOVERNMENT

The government's cash account represents balances of current and special deposits to the credit of the Receiver General for Canada in the Bank of Canada, chartered banks in Canada and certain banks in London, New York, Brussels, Bonn, Frankfurt and Rome.

The cash position of the government is affected not only by budgetary transactions but also by changes in the government's unmatured debt and other non-budgetary transactions. Non-budgetary transactions are those which affect the government's asset and liability accounts and must be taken into account when considering the full scope of the government's financial operations.

On the asset side, the non-budgetary transactions consist, for the most part, of loans and advances to, and repayment by crown corporations, and other government agencies and funds, national, provincial and municipal governments, international organizations and other borrowers.

On the liability side, they relate mainly to receipts and payments in connection with the many deposit and trust accounts, and annuity, insurance and pension funds held or administered by the government.

During 1974-75 total cash receipts arising from all government transactions totalled $68,973 million and total cash disbursements were $66,578 million, bringing the total balances in Receiver General bank accounts to $3,205 million at March 31, 1975. Of this balance $3,186 million was on deposit in Canada and $19 million in foreign countries.

Non-budgetary disbursements and charges (excluding unmatured debt transactions) totalled $28,858 million in 1974-75 and included $7,656 million for social security accounts, $449 million for other annuity, insurance and pension accounts, $4,064 million for foreign exchange reserves, $4,776 million for loans and investments, $3,616 million under provincial tax collection agreements and $8,312 million for sundry other accounts.

Non-budgetary receipts and credits (excluding unmatured debt transactions) totalled $28,497 million of which $7,691 million was for social security accounts, $2,219 million for other annuity, insurance and pension accounts, $4,707 million for foreign exchange reserves, $2,366 million for loans and investments, $3,420 million for the provincial tax collection agreements account and $8,094 million for sundry other accounts.

Details of these non-budgetary transactions are given in Section 6 of this volume.

As is shown in Table 1, operations in unmatured debt furnished a net amount of $3,902 million of which $1,510 million was used for cash requirements. The remainder, $2,392 million, increased the government's available cash to $3,205 million at March 31, 1975.

Table 2 shows the Government of Canada Canadian cash monthly balances for the latest five fiscal years and Table 3 shows the foreign cash balances (converted to Canadian dollar value) for the same period.

During 1974-75 Canadian cash balances rose from a low of $637 million at May 31, 1974 to a high of $5,088 million at November 30, 1974.

Foreign balances rose from a low of $8 million at July 31, 1974 to a high of $19 million at March 31, 1975.

The implication of the level of government cash balances at any given time can be misinterpreted because of their wide fluctuations throughout the year, as is illustrated in the following table. Furthermore, because many cheques are issued at the end of a month and are not redeemed until the first few days of the following month whereas the largest percentage of receipts are not received until later, cash balances may drop in the early days of each month by as much as $125 to $300 million.

ASSET AND LIABILITY ACCOUNTS

The statement of the assets and liabilities of Canada, as certified by the Auditor General, is presented in Section 2 of this volume on a comparative basis, showing the balance of each of the principal classifications of accounts at March 31, 1975, the corresponding balance at March 31, 1974, and the increase or decrease during the fiscal year 1974-75. It is followed by explanatory notes. The detailed schedules of these accounts with their supporting notes are presented on a comparative basis in section 11. A description of the structure and more significant features of the statement of assets and liabilities is given in section 1 of this volume.

Summary

The gross liabilities of the government totalled $62,696 million at March 31, 1975, an increase of $7,139 million over the total of $55,557 million at March 31, 1974. The main changes were increases of $3,915 million in the unmatured debt and $3,067 million in annuity, insurance and pension accounts.

The net recorded assets totalled $43,421 million at March 31, 1975, an increase of $5,992 million over the total of $37,429 million at March 31, 1974. The main changes were increases of $2,481 million in current assets, $2,267 million in the advances, loans and investments and $1,285 million in the Canada pension plan investment fund and a decrease in the foreign exchange reserve accounts during the same period of $717 million.

The net debt of Canada, or the excess of liabilities over net recorded assets, was $19,275 million at March 31, 1975 compared with $18,129 million at March 31, 1974. The increase of $1,146 million reflected the budgetary deficit for the fiscal year 1974-75.

A condensed statement of the assets and liabilities of the Government of Canada as at March 31, 1975, with comparative figures as at March 31, 1974, and the net increase or decrease during the fiscal year 1974-75, is presented in the following table. Also included in this section are supplementary tables showing the major accounts within each category. Further details may be found in Section 6 "Non-budgetary transactions" and Section 7 "Financing operations of the government, and the public debt" and the schedules ot the Statement of Assets and Liabilities in Section 11.

Current Assets

Cash accounts

The total of all cash account balances was $4,540 million at March 31, 1975 compared with $2,072 million at March 31, 1974. The increase of $2,468 million reflects upper balances in Receiver General current deposit accounts which totalled $3,181 million compared with $757 million in March 31, 1974 and a decrease in cash in hands of collectors and in transit from $1,158 million on March 31, 1974 to $1,028 million at March 31, 1975. A more detailed explanation of the cash transactions is given in Section 8 of this volume.

Cash in hands of collectors and in transit represents moneys received by public officers on or before March 31 but not deposited to the credit of the Receiver General until after that date.

Moneys received after March 31, but applicable to the fiscal year 1974-75, totalled $275 million compared with $79 million at March 31, 1974.

Post Office receipts in hands of postmasters and in transit totalled $31 million, $7 million more than at March 31, 1974.

Securities investment account

Provincial tax collection agreements account

The federal government has entered into tax-collection agreements under which it collects the provincial personal income taxes of all provinces except Quebec and the provincial corporation income taxes of all provinces except Quebec and Ontario. The federal government offered to collect the provincial income taxes without charge provided that provincial personal income tax was expressed as a percentage of federal personal income tax otherwise payable and provincial corporation income tax applied to taxable income calculated in the same ways as for federal income tax purposes. To allow for imposition of the provincial income taxes, the Income Tax Act was amended to abate the federal income tax otherwise payable by individuals in all provinces. The abatement in 1967, 1968, 1969, 1970, 1971, 1972, 1973 and 1974 was 28% for taxpayers in all provinces except Quebec and 50% for taxpayers in the Province of Quebec. The higher abatement for Quebec takes account of the fact that the payment of youth allowances and the full cost of certain programs, which are supported jointly by federal and provincial governments in the other provinces, have been assumed by Quebec. The federal corporation income tax rates were abated by 10 percentage points for taxable income earned in all provinces in 1967, 1968, 1969, 1970, 1971, 1972, 1973 and 1974. The federal government has entered into tax-collection agreements under which it collects the provincial personal income taxes of all provinces except Quebec and the provincial corporation income taxes of all provinces except Ontario and Quebec. Under these agreements, payments are made monthly to each province based on an estimate of that province's tax revenue. The actual amounts due based on assessed returns are established as at December 31 following the end of the fiscal year and adjustments are made with the provinces.

During 1974-75 collections totalled $3,420 million and payments to provinces totalled $3,616 million resulting in a debit balance of $16 million at March 31, 1975. This debit Balance represents overpayments to provinces and was reclassified as such in Loans to provinces. In 1973-74 collections were $2,752 million, payments were $2,933 million resulting in a balance of $181 million at March 31, 1974.

Deferred interest in respect of the loan under the United Kingdom Financial Agreement Act, 1946, which is a contra account to a corresponding item in "Advances, Loans and Investments—External—National Governments", was $101 million at March 31, 1975 unchanged from the balance at March 31, 1974.

Deferred interest in respect of The St. Lawrence Seaway Authority, which is a contra account to a corresponding item in "Advances, Loans and Investments—Domestic—Crown Corporations" increased by $14 million to $162 million at March 31, 1975.

Deferred interest on loans to the Northern Canada Power Commission at $29 million was $6 million more than at March 31, 1974. Advances are made to the commission for various projects in the Yukon Territory and the Northwest Territories, and in respect of the Provinces of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Newfoundland pursuant to the Atlantic Provinces Power Development Act. Upon completion of a project, accrued interest is capitalized and added to the original amount of the advance to be repayable in thirty or forty (as the case may be) equal annual instalments. The interest so capitalized is recorded as deferred interest until such time as payments are received. This is a contra account to amounts included in "Advances, Loans and Investments—Domestic—Crown Corporations" and, "Advances, Loans and Investments—Domestic—Provincial Governments".

Crown Assets Disposal Corporation—government equity

This is a contra account to a corresponding asset account which records the government equity in the agency account of Crown Assets Disposal Corporation under "Advances, Loans and Investments—Domestic—Miscellaneous".

The balance in the account at March 31, 1975 remained unchanged to $13 million.

Unamortized premium on loans

This account records premiums received on the sale of $50 million Government of Canada bonds issued on February 1, 1967 and maturing on September 1, 1992 which were sold at $100.75.

The premiums are being credited to the budgetary expenditure account "interest on public debt" on a monthly amortization basis. The account has increased to 4 million as at March 31 1975. This net increase is partly due to premiums on new issues.

Other Liabilities

Included herein are accounts where some uncertainty as to disposition exists and other accounts where the final accounting treatment is dependent on the fulfilment of certain conditions.

The decrease of $15,265,000 represented annual repayments of $2,307,000 by the Government of Belgium, $8,368,000 by the Government of France and $4,590,000 by the Government of The Netherlands. Interest of $1,624,710 received on these loans was credited to non-tax revenue—return on investments.

F-2 In this account is recorded the obligation of the Government of France in respect of settlement of the accrued interest on certain interim credit advances in 1945-46 by receipt from the government of bonds which will mature on December 31 of each year until 1977. The amount of the bond maturing in each fiscal year is $82,000. Payment of $656,000 was received in the fiscal year 1962-63 in respect of bonds maturing during an 8-year period to December 31, 1969. A repayment of $82,000 was received in 1973-74. Interest of $9,840 was received and credited to non-tax revenue—return on investments.

F-3 Under authority of the United Kingdom Financial Agreement Act, a credit of $1,250,000,000 was extended to the Government of the United Kingdom which might be drawn on at any time prior to December 31, 1951. The purpose of the credit was to facilitate purchases by the United Kingdom of goods and services in Canada and to assist in making it possible for the United Kingdom to meet transitional post-war deficits in its current balance of payments, to maintain adequate reserves of gold and dollars and to assume the obligations of multilateral trade. No interest was to be payable in respect of any period prior to January 1, 1951. The amount of the credit drawn by December 31, 1951 was to be repaid in 30 annual instalments beginning on that date with interest at the rate of 2% per annum. The agreement as amended in 1957, provides for the deferment of interest in respect to the year 1956 and of seven instalments of principal and interest after December 31, 1956, under certain conditions. Interest for 1956 and interest and principal for 1957, 1964, 1965 and 1968 was deferred. The decrease in the account was due to a repayment of principal $22,092,761 due on December 31, 1974. Interest in the amount of $15,617,494 was received and credited to non-tax revenue—return on investments.

F-4 This account was set up to record on the government's books the deferred interest on the loan in the preceding note. A corresponding credit was set up under deferred credits (see schedule 0). The amount is made up of interest due on December 31, 1956, $22,241,802, December 31, 1957, $21,932,432, December 31, 1964, $19,586,496. SCHEDULE F—Continued

A further purchase of 750 paid-in shares and 3,000 callable shares of stock for the amount of $37,500,000 U.S. of the weight and fineness in effect on July 1, 1944, including authority to pay, in respect of the paid-in shares, $7,500,000 U.S. notwithstanding that the payment may exceed or fall short of the equivalent in Canadian dollars estimated as of October 1971, which is $7,575,000 in installments in the current and subsequent fiscal years to be paid in cash or in non-interest-bearing, non-negotiable demand notes was authorized under Vote L45b, Appropriation Act No. 2, 1973.

On August 22, 1966, Canada deposited its instrument of ratification, thereby subscribing for 1,250 paid-in shares and an equal number of callable shares in accordance with Treaty Series 1966, No. 24 concerning the finance agreement establishing the Asian Development Bank.

As at March 31, 1975, Canada's instalment payments amounted to $20,614,154 U.S. = $20,524,195 Can. for 1,750 paid-in shares. During the year ended March 31, 1975, Canada made its second instalment relating to Vote L45b in the amount of $1,206,350 U.S. = $1,205,023 Can. in cash and $1,809,525 U.S. = $1,807,534 Can. in non-interest-bearing, non-negotiable demand notes for 250 paid-in shares. An amount of $32,209 Can. in cash and $48,314 Can. in notes was credited to the account representing an overpayment of the current year instalment.

An amount of $309,199 U.S. = $300,603 Can. in cash and $187,759 U.S. = $182,540 Can. in notes was credited to the account representing a maintenance of value adjustment.

Instalment payments relating to Vote L23b were made 50% in convertible currency and 50% in non-negotiable non-interest-bearing notes payable on demand. The ratio for Vote 45b however, is now 40% in convertible currency and 60% in non-negotiable non-interest-bearing notes. The notes are carried as a liability of the Government of Canada under the heading "current liabilities", whereas payment of the amount subscribed to the callable capital stock of the bank is subject to call only as and when required by the bank to meet its obligations.

F-11 Vote L36a, Appropriation Act No. 4, 1969 authorized the purchase of 2,000 shares of stock of the Caribbean Development Bank in 1969-70 and subsequent fiscal years, being Canada's subscription as a member thereof, for the amount of $10,000,000 U.S., ($10,760,000 Can.) including authority for the issue in the current and subsequent fiscal years to the bank, on behalf of the Government of Canada, as payment for the shares so purchased, pending cash requirements by the Bank, of non-interest-bearing, non-negotiable demand notes in such form as may be determined by the Minister of Finance.

Vote L36b Extended the purposes of Loans, Investments and Advances Vote L36a, Appropriation Act No. 4, 1969, to authorize the purchase in the current and subsequent fiscal years of an additional 3,477 callable shares of stock of the Caribbean Development Bank, being Canada's additional subscription as a member thereof, for the amount of $17,385,000 in terms of United States dollars of the weight and fineness in effect September 1, 1969, including authority for the issue in the current and subsequent fiscal years to the Bank, on behalf of the Government of Canada, as payment for the shares so purchased, pending cash requirements of the Bank, of non-interest-bearing non-negotiable demand notes in such form as may be determined by the Minister of Finance, notwithstanding that the payment may exceed the equivalent in Canadian dollars, estimated as of October 1, 1974, which is ..... $ 20,653,590

During the year ended March 31, 1975, Canada paid its sixth instalment ($965,078 U.S. = $959,095 Can.) on Canada's subscription. To maintain a constant value of all the Bank's Canadian dollar holdings derived from Canada's subscription, the first, second, third, fourth and fifth all instalments must be calculated on the same rate of exchange. The first, second, third, fourth and fifth instalments were therefore revalued and the sixth subscription of $959,095 represents the balance due by Canada to the Caribbean Development Bank. Total subscriptions to date amount to $6,031,740 U.S. equivalent to $5,984,210 Canadian, of which $2,412,696 U.S. = $2,393,877 Can. is in non-interest-bearing notes payable on demand. These notes are carried as a liability of the Government of Canada under the heading "current liabilities". These payments are equal to 50% of the amounts due in respect of paid-up shares, as required by the agreement establishing the bank. The callable shares are subject to call by the bank under certain circumstances.

F-12 Vote L40b Appropriation Act No. 2, 1973 authorized the purchase of 4,000 paid-in shares and 20,268 callable shares of stock of the Inter-American Development Bank, being Canada's subscription as a member thereof, for the amount of $242,680,000 U.S. of the weight and fineness in effect on July 1, 1944, including authority to pay, in respect of the paid-in shares, $40,000,000 U.S. in annual instalments over a period of three years commencing in the 1972-73 fiscal year, as required in accordance with the undertakings given by Canada to subscribe to shares of stock of the Bank, said instalments to be paid in cash or in non-interest-bearing, non-negotiable demand notes in such form as may be determined by the Minister of Finance, or in a combination of cash and notes, notwithstanding that the payments may exceed or fall short of the equivalent in Canadian dollars estimated as of October 1971, which is $40,400,000.

During the year ended March 31, 1975, Canada paid its third instalment ($19,432,355 U.S. = $18,666,720 Can.) on Canada's subscription making the total of $48,384,622 U.S. = $47,404,740 Can. for 4,000 paid-in shares. The first instalment was made in convertible currency while the second instalment by non-negotiable non-interest-bearing note. The third instalment however, was made in the amount of $9,396,228 Can. in convertible currency and $9,270,493 Can. by non-negotiable non-interest-bearing note. The notes are carried as a liability of the Government of Canada under the heading "current liabilities". The callable shares are subject to call by the bank under certain circumstances.

L-2 The Old Age Security Act, which came into effect January 1, 1952, provides for a monthly pension to persons sixty-five years of age or over who meet certain residence requirements. The monthly amount of the basic pension in March 1975 was $120.06.

Once having qualified, a pensioner may leave Canada and receive the basic pension outside the country for a period of six months, exclusive of the month of departure. In the case of a pensioner who has resided in Canada for a total of twenty years, subsequent to attaining the age of eighteen, payment outside of Canada may continue indefinitely.

Effective January 1, 1967, the Old Age Security Act was amended to provide for the payment of a monthly guaranteed income supplement to eligible pensioners. The amount of the supplement that may be paid to a pensioner depends upon the amount of the pensioner's income, computed in accordance with the Income Tax Act. The maximum supplement in March, 1975 was $84.21 for a single pensioner and $74.79 each for married pensioners. The supplement is included in the monthly old age security cheque. Beginning in April, 1971, payment of the supplement is made on a fiscal year basis instead of the calendar year. The basic pension and the supplement are increased in January, April, July and October each year if the cost of living rises. When a pensioner in receipt of the supplement leaves Canada, payment of the supplement is made for only the month of departure and six additional months. During 1974-75, the net payments of guaranteed income supplement were $837,696,131 and of the basic old age security pension, $2,606,778,091 for a total of $3,444,474,222. Pensions paid under the Old Age Security Act are paid out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund and charged to the Old Age Security Fund. Credited to the Old Age Security Fund are amounts equal, in the opinion of the Minister of National Revenue, to the net amount that would have been collected under Section 24 of the Old Age Security Act as it read on July 15, 1971. If the Minister of Finance is of the opinion that the balance in the Old Age Security Fund is or will be less than the amount required to cover the pensions payable under the Act, he may direct that amounts be credited to the fund by way of temporary loans. The amounts of such loans are to be charged to the fund by way of repayment at such time as the Minister of Finance may direct.

DEPARTMENT OF NATIONAL REVENUE—TAXATION

Remissions of income tax:

Bank of Nova Scotia 167,805

PC 1974—6/2466 November 12, 1974, authorized the remission of $167,805 in respect of the 1963 to 1965 taxation years.

Due to a change in the United States in respect of the method for calculating income of foreign banks' branch operations, the bank was re-assessed to decrease U-S tax payable for 1963 to 1965. The interest received on the over payment of U-S tax is taxable but the interest charge on the corresponding deficiency of Canada tax due to the reallocation of income from the United States to Canada is non-deductible. This resulted in a net interest computed as follows:

Interest income received on U-S Tax Funds		($335,609)
Canadian income tax thereon at 1972 effective tax rate of 46.2795%		155,318
Canadian interest on Canadian income tax decreases—
1963	$315,226
1964	205,819
1965	19,397	540,442
Interest cost incurred		$360,151

In June 1970, the Minister of National Revenue stated he would recommend a remission of net interest cost or such lesser interest cost that may have been incurred. Three percent of the net interest cost was found to be $167,805. Therefore a remission of the lesser amount of $167,805 was recommended.

Bonaccord Finance Corporation Limited
Mother's Own Bakery Limited 23,575
René's Bakery Limited

PC 1974—6/1190 May 30, 1974, authorized the remission of $23,575 income tax plus interest payable in respect of the 1972 and 1973 taxation years for the above corporations.

Atlantic Holdings Limited was a subsidiary of Assumption Mutual Life Insurance Company in 1972 and 1973. Under Section 141 of the Income Tax Act a life insurance company resident in in Canada is deemed to be a public corporation. Consequently Atlantic Holdings Limited and its subsidiaries were deemed to be controlled by a public corporation and were therefore not entitled to the small business deduction under Section 125 of the Act.

However, the investment by Assumption Mutual Life Insurance Company in Atlantic Holdings was originally made to maintain in operation a number of businesses serving the Acadian population which were in financial difficulty. The return on the investment has been substantially less than what would have been realized on ordinary insurance company investments. Furthermore, Assumption Mutual cannot provide any further source of capital to Atlantic Holdings, since the extent of its investment therein is limited by statute.

Assumption Mutual divested itself of control of Atlantic Holdings by selling approximately one-half of its share-holding to «La Fédération des Caisses Populaires Acadiennes Limitée,» with the result that for 1974 and subsequent taxation years, Atlantic Holdings and its subsidaries will fall within the definition of private companies and will be entitled to the small business deduction.

Brett, Estate of John T 5,408

PC 1974—5/1848 August 14, 1974, authorized the remission of interest which was the residual of an assessment of $8,017 which has been reduced by payment.

At the time of Mr Brett's death in 1960 his trust account and file were not in balance and the matter was not settled until July 1973. In the interim Mrs Brett was forced to borrow funds and use her savings to complete her education as well as the children. She subsequently became a teacher in Kenora late in 1962 earning $1,512 for that year. A payment of $6,250 was made on August 4, 1973 to cover outstanding tax and law costs in the amount of $6,217.

A remission was recommended due to the fact the major portion of the interest due accrued as a result of the lengthy period required to straighten out the trust account and records.

Burns, John Thomas 20,587

PC 1974—6/1848 August 14, 1974, authorized the remission of $20,587 interest representing $17,076 interest on payroll deductions and $3,511 on his individual account.

Since 1961 Mr Burns has paid all current taxes due on filing. The tax portion of his personal taxes owing has been reduced due to several refund years.

All voluntary payments by the taxpayer together with garnishee payments from his employment have been applied to the payroll deduction amount. These payments were in excess of $11,000 over the past twelve years.

The remission was recommended because Mr Burns is now 60 years of age, his health is deteriorating and he earns only $4,966 per year as a janitor.

Bushe, Anne R 1,186

Bushe, Cornelius 1,561

PC 1974—8/1699 July 30, 1974, remitted tax and penalty for the 1970 and 1971 taxation years for Anne R Bushe $1,186 and Cornelius Bushe $1,561.

Article XII of Schedule II to the Canada—Ireland Income Tax Agreement Act 1967 provides that an individual from one of the territories who receives remuneration for teaching during a period of temporary residence at an establishment for higher education in the other territory should be exempt from tax in respect of that remuneration.

The taxpayers came to Canada in 1970 to teach in elementary schools with the alleged intention of returning within 24 months but they claim to have since changed their plans and have remained in Canada. Since they did not teach in an establishment for higher education they do not enjoy the benefit of the said Act but it is felt that it was not the intention to remove the exemption in a case such as this. Therefore a remission of tax, penalty, and interest owing was recommended.

Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce 167,698

PC 1974—7/2171 October 1, 1974, authorized the remission of $167,698 in respect of the 1961-1965 taxation years.

Due to a change in the United States in respect of the method for calculating income of foreign banks' branch operations, the bank was re assessed to decrease U-S tax payable for 1961-65. The interest received on the overpayment of U-S tax is taxable but the interest charge on the corresponding deficiency of Canadian tax due to the reallocation of income from the United States to Canada is non-deductible. This resulted in a net interest cost computed as follows:

Interest income received on U-S tax refunds (U-S $515,497 at 100.5)	($518,096)
Canadian income tax on U-S interest income of $518,096 at 1971 effective tax rate of 49.81742%	258,102
Canadian interest on Canadian income tax increases:
1961	4,015
1962	127,544
1963	173,086
1964	104,663
1965	18,384	427,692
Interest cost incurred		$167,698

In June 1970 the Minister of National Revenue stated he would recommend a remission of net interest cost or such lesser interest cost that may have been incurred. Three percent of the net interest cost was found to be $259,048. Therefore a remission of the lesser amount of $167,698 was recommended.

E T Stephens Enterprises Limited 3,617

PC 1975—8/360 dated February 25, 1975, authorized the remission of income tax to the extent of $3,617.

In 1970 the taxpayer elected under Section 105(1) of the Income Tax Act and paid 15% tax ($7,442) on its undistributed income on hand at the end of 1949. Subsequently, in 1971, an election was made under Section 105(2) and 15% tax was paid to the extent of $12,735. It then issued and redeemed a stock dividend and thereby distributed most of its tax paid undistributed income. Since paragraph 89 (1)(k) now limits the taxpayer's 1971 undistributed surplus on hand to the lesser of 1971 undistributed income on hand and 1971 taxpayer undistributed income, the taxpayer uselessly paid tax on $24,135. Therefore, a remission of the tax needlessly paid was recommended.

Island Land Company Limited 4,800

PC 1975—6/323 dated February 11, 1975, authorized the remission of income tax to the extent of $4,800. In 1971 the taxpayer elected under Section 105(2) of the Income Tax Act and created tax paid undistributed income of $27,200 which was not paid to the shareholders at December 31, 1971. Due to the new provisions of 89(1)(k)(i) the tax paid on the undistributed income disappears and cannot be distributed tax free to the shareholders. Therefore, a remission of the tax needlessly paid was recommended.

Swarbrigg, George H 1,020

PC 1974—16/2108 September 24, 1974, authorized the remission of income tax in respect of the 1972 taxation year to the extent of $1,020.

The taxpayer came to Canada from Ireland in July 1971 as a teacher with the New Brunswick Board of Education. In 1972 he moved to Willowdale, Ontario. It is believed that the reference in the Canada-Ireland Income Tax Agreement Article XII Schedule II to an "establishment for higher education" is not meant to be narrowly interpreted and that Mr Swarbrigg's actual employment was intended to be within the scope of this article. Therefore, Mr Swarbrigg was granted a remission of tax for the period January 1—September 13/72, the period for which he fulfilled the requirements applicable to visiting teachers.

Dear Mr. Whelan,

I have examined the balance sheet of the Agriculture Revolving Fund as at March 31, 1975 and the statement of operations for the year then ended. My examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion these financial statements give a true and fair view of the financial position of the Agriculture Revolving Fund as at March 31, 1975 and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

I further report that, in my opinion, proper books of account have been kept by the Fund, the financial statements are in agreement therewith and the transactions that have come under my notice have been within its statutory powers.

Yours sincerely,
J.J. MACDONELL

THE HONOURABLE GÉRARD PELLETIER, P.C., M.P.
MINISTER OF COMMUNICATIONS,
OTTAWA, ONTARIO.
K1A 0C8

Dear Mr. Pelletier,

I have examined the balance sheet of the Government Telephone Account Revolving Fund as at March 31, 1975 and the statement of operations for the year then ended. My examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion these financial statements give a true and fair view of the financial position of the Government Telephone Account Revolving Fund as at March 31, 1975 and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

I further report that, in my opinion, proper books of account have been kept by the Fund, the financial statements are in agreement therewith and the transactions that have come under my notice have been within its statutory powers.

Yours sincerely,

J.J. MACDONELL
Auditor General of Canada

Exchange Fund Account—Concluded

NOTE TO FINANCIAL STATEMENT

On July 1, 1974, the International Monetary Fund adopted a new method of valuing SDRs. This method is based on a trade weighted average of the market values of sixteen major currencies and is commonly referred to as the "basket" rate. In order to take this change into account the Minister of Finance on July 31, 1974, authorized the revaluation of the Account's SDR denominated assets (including gold). As at December 31, 1974, the SDR rate established by the International Monetary Fund was U.S.$1 = SDR 0.816760 (1 troy ounce of gold = 35 SDRs). The resulting cumulative valuation adjustment of $19,612,543 on these assets was credited to the Deficit on the authority of the Minister of Finance.

As at December 31, 1973, these assets had been valued on the basis of U.S.$1 = SDR 0.828948.

AUDITOR GENERAL OF CANADA

Ottawa, Ontario,
K1A 0G6
April 30, 1975.

THE HONOURABLE JOHN N. TURNER, P.C., Q.C., M.P., MINISTER OF FINANCE,
OTTAWA, ONTARIO.

Dear Mr. Turner,

I have examined the Exchange Fund Account and the transactions in connection therewith for the year ended December 31, 1974, as required by section 18(2) of the Currency and Exchange Act, R.S., c. C-39.

My examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as I considered necessary in the circumstances. The Fund's holdings at the close of the year have been confirmed to us by the Auditors of the Bank of Canada.

In my opinion, the transactions in connection with the Account have been in accordance with the provisions of the Currency and Exchange Act, the records of the Account show truly and clearly the state of the Account and the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities presents fairly the financial position of the Account at December 31, 1974, in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Yours sincerely,

J. J. MACDONELL
Auditor General of Canada.

August 28, 1975.

THE HONOURABLE ALASTAIR W. GILLESPIE, P.C., M.P., MINISTER OF INDUSTRY, TRADE AND COMMERCE,
OTTAWA, ONTARIO.

Dear Mr. Gillespie,

I have examined the balance sheet of the Statistics Canada Revolving Fund as at March 31, 1975 and the statement of operations for the year then ended. My examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion these financial statements give a true and fair view of the financial position of the Fund as at March 31, 1975 and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

I further report that, in my opinion, proper books of account have been kept by the Fund, the financial statements are in agreement therewith and the transactions that have come under my notice have been within its statutory powers.

Yours sincerely,

J. J. MACDONELL
Auditor General of Canada.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Accounting policies

Accounts receivable

No provision is made for doubtful accounts receivable because debts due to the Crown which are determined to be uncollectible may be written off only in accordance with the Deletion of Debt Regulations.

Fixed assets and depreciation

Fixed assets are stated at acquisition cost, except for those financed from parliamentary appropriations prior to March 31, 1974 which are stated at acquisition cost less accumulated allowance for depreciation as at April 1, 1974. Depreciation is calculated at 10% per annum of acquisition cost on a straight line basis.

Accrual accounting

The accounts are recorded on an accrual basis. However, pursuant to acceptable Government accounting procedures, the Fund elected to hold open its accounts to record cheques issued during the thirty days following the end of the fiscal year.

2. Establishment of the Fund

The Fund became operational on April 1, 1974 as authorized by Labour Vote L15, Appropriation Act No. 3, 1974 with authority to draw funds from the Consolidated Revenue Fund not exceeding at any time $2,750,000 for working capital purposes.

Appendix 1—Concluded

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS—Concluded

The Fund acquired the following assets and liabilities on April 1, 1974:

(a)	Accounts receivable	$ 693,591
	Inventories of publications (Note 3)	1,588,618
		2,282,209
	Less: Current liabilities	567,525
		$1,714,684
(b)	Capital assets financed from parliamentary appropriations prior to April 1, 1974:
	Furniture and equipment, at cost	$ 340,414
	Less: Accumulated depreciation	86,595
		253,819
	Crown copyrights, at nominal value	1
		$ 253,820

3. Inventories of publications acquired by the Fund on April 1, 1974 did not include stocks consigned to certain other Government departments who were unable to confirm the balances held by them. Furthermore, accurate inventory records were not maintained by Information Canada to control the quantities and value of these stocks. Consequently, the amount paid of $1,714,684 to the Consolidated Revenue Fund for the net assets was deficient by the cost of these publications estimated by management at approximately $100,000.

4. Accounts receivable

Accounts receivable from non-government customers of $670,059 included accounts totalling $262,825 which were overdue for more than four months. No provision was made in the current year for accounts receivable which may become uncollectible.

During the year, accounts receivable totalling $6,749 were written off in accordance with the Deletion of Debt Regulations.

5. Inventories on consignment

Inventories of publications do not include stocks consigned to certain other Government departments who were unable to confirm the balances held by them on March 31, 1975. Furthermore, accurate inventory records were not maintained by the Fund to control the quantities and value of these stocks. Consequently, the value of the inventories at March 31, 1975 is understated, and the net loss for the year is overstated, by the cost of the publications estimated by management at approximately $70,000.

6. Crown copyrights

The Fund acquired responsibility for protecting and administering the Crown copyrights of Government publications which are recorded in the accounts at a nominal value of $1.

7. Due to the Consolidated Revenue Fund

In accordance with the 1974-75 Main Estimates subsequently authorized by Labour Vote 10, Appropriation Act No. 3, 1974, an amount of $2,500,000 was transferred by Informaton Canada to the Fund and recorded as revenue representing recovery of cost incurred by the Fund for the free and subsidized distribution of government publications. Although direct expenditure accounts were not maintained by the Fund for this purpose, the applicable costs were computed and amounted to only $2,270,234. Consequently, the remaining balance of $229,766 is refundable by the Fund to the Consolidated Revenue Fund through the appropriation accounts of Information Canada.

During the year the Fund received royalty revenue of $12,795 which was earned prior to April 1, 1974 and is therefore refundable to the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

8. Supplementary information

The Fund was charged an amount of $125,000 representing an estimate of manpower services, at standard salary rates, provided by Information Canada.

The following expenditures were charged to operations during the year: depreciation expense $36,868; interest paid of $41,968 on advances from the Consolidated Revenue Fund as working capital.

AUDITOR GENERAL OF CANADA
Ottawa, Ontario,
K1A 0G6

September 5, 1975.

THE HONOURABLE JOHN C. MUNRO, P.C., B.A., M.P., MINISTER OF LABOUR,
OTTAWA, ONTARIO.

Dear Mr. Munro,

I have examined the balance sheet of Information Canada—Publishing Revolving Fund as at March 31, 1975 and the statement of operations for the year then ended. My examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion these financial statements give a true and fair view of the Fund as at March 31, 1975 and the results of its operations for the year then ended, except that:

(i) the amount paid to the Consolidated Revenue Fund for the net assets acquired on April 1, 1974 was deficient by the value of publications held on consignment by certain Government departments, as explained in Note 3 to the financial statements;

(ii) the value of inventories at March 31, 1975 is understated, and the net loss for the year is overstated, by the value of publications held on consignment by certain Government departments, as explained in Note 5 to the financial statements.

The statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles except that no provision was made in the current year for accounts receivable which may become uncollectible, as explained in Notes 1 and 4 to the financial statements.

I further report that, in my opinion, proper books of account have been kept by the Fund, the financial statements are in agreement therewith and the transactions that have come under my notice have been within its statutory powers.

Yours sincerely,

J. J. MACDONELL
Auditor General of Canada.

Canada Pension Plan

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Accounting policy

The records of the Canada Pension Plan Account and the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund are maintained on a cash basis and, at year-end, did not include accrued benefits payable by the Account or accrued interest earned by the Fund.

2. Purchase of securities of the provinces and Canada

The balance to the credit of the Canada Pension Plan Account less the balance in the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund is defined by the legislation as the operating balance. When the operating balance exceeds the estimated amount required to meet all payments, in the following three-month period, the excess is available for purchase of securities of the provinces and Canada. All the securities held at year-end are non-negotiable, have a term of 20 years, bear interest at the market yield of 20-year Canada bonds, and are carried at cost.

Provinces are advised monthly of the amount of excess moneys in the Canada Pension Plan Account that is available for the purchase of provincial securities. The amount available to each province is the proportion that contributions made to the Plan by each province bears to total contributions. Contributions received from the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and from certain other employees outside Canada are invested in bonds of the Government of Canada.

The Canada Pension Plan is applicable throughout Canada, except in the Province of Quebec where a similar plan has been established. However, certain federal employees, such as members of the armed forces, who are resident in the Province of Quebec contribute to the Canada Pension Plan. The securities of this Province that are purchased by the Plan relate to the contributions of these employees.

3. Expense

The total expense of the Canada Pension Plan Account represents the cost of services provided by the Unemployment Insurance Commission (assignment of social insurance numbers and maintenance of central index) and five federal government departments: National Revenue-Taxation (collection of contributions); National Health and Welfare (administration); Supply and Services (accounting and computer services); Public Works (accommodation); and Insurance (actuarial services). The Department of Finance is responsible for the investment program of the Fund, a service that is performed without charge by this Department.

Ottawa, July 31, 1975

THE HONOURABLE MARC LALONDE, P.C., M.A., LL.L, Q.C., M.P., MINISTER OF NATIONAL HEALTH AND WELFARE,
OTTAWA, ONTARIO.

Dear Mr. Lalonde,

The Canada Pension Plan was amended in January 1975 and now requires the Auditor General to audit the Canada Pension Plan Account and the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund and to report annually to the Minister of National Health and Welfare. Pursuant to this requirement I have examined the statements of operations of the Canada Pension Plan Account and of the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund of the Canada Pension Plan for the year ended March 31, 1975. My examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion these financial statements give a true and fair view of the results of the operations of the Canada Pension Plan Account and the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund for the year ended March 31, 1975, in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

I further report that, in my opinion, proper books of account have been kept by the Canada Pension Plan Account and the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund, the financial statements are in agreement therewith and the transactions that have come under my notice have been within their statutory powers.

Yours sincerely,

J. J. MACDONELL
Auditor General of Canada.

Accounting Policies

The overhead cost of administering the Revolving Fund was borne by the Department of National Revenue–Customs and Excise.

The payment records of the Revolving Fund were kept open until April 30, 1975. Payments made in April, 1975 were charged to inventories or expenses as appropriate in the fiscal year 1974-75 and were credited to the Working Capital Advance.

Issues of spirit age labels were credited to the Revolving Fund at the average cost price and charged to the departmental appropriation.

Interest was not charged to the Fund because Treasury Board, by Circular 1970-7, January 8, 1970 determined the Fund to be a Working Capital Advance.

Appendix—Concluded

AUDITOR GENERAL OF CANADA
Ottawa, June 30, 1975.

THE HONOURABLE RONALD BASFORD, P.C., LL.B., M.P., MINISTER OF NATIONAL REVENUE,
OTTAWA.

Dear Mr. Basford,

I have examined the balance sheet of the Customs and Excise Revolving Fund as at March 31, 1975 and the related statement of operations for the year then ended. My examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of the accounting records and other supporting evidence as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion, these financial statements give a true and fair view of the financial position of the Customs and Excise Revolving Fund as at March 31, 1975 and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Deficiencies were noted in the Fund's commitment control records which permitted purchases of tobacco stamps to be made at a cost of $125,778 in excess of the contracted amount of $330,000. The excess quantity which was not required, was subsequently destroyed. Subject to these inadequate records I report that, in my opinion, proper books of account have been kept by the Revolving Fund, the financial statements are in agreement therewith and the transactions that have come under my notice have been within its statutory powers.

Yours sincerely,

J. J. MACDONELL
Auditor General of Canada

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Accounting Policies

The Council's accounts are maintained on an accrual basis for income and grant expenditures. General administration expenditures are recorded on a modified cash basis consistent with the one used by departments of the Government of Canada in which payments in April relating to work performed, goods received or services rendered prior to March 31 appear as accounts payable. Purchases of works of art are similarly recorded on a modified cash basis.

Cancelled grants authorized in previous years and refunds are shown as income in the Endowment Account. With respect to the Special Funds those same items are deducted from the grants authorized for the year.

Capital expenditures are charged to general administration for the year and as a consequence there are no charges for depreciation.

Interest accrued on the Queen's Fellowship Fund and fellowships paid therefrom are not included in the statement of operations and surplus of the Endowment Account.

All monies or properties received by the Council pursuant to section 20 of the Canada Council Act, are accounted for in the Special Funds statements.

3. Queen's Fellowship Fund

In December 1973 the Council received a grant of $250,000 from Canada for the establishment of a Queen's Fellowship Fund to be administered by the Council. The income from the Fund is to be used for the payment of fellowships to graduate students in certain fields of Canadian studies. Fellowships granted during the year amounted to $29,265 (this is the first year awards have been made since the inception of the Fund) and the Fund earned $26,878 during the year ($32,056 from inception).

4. Administration expenditure

Programme administration expenditures comprise the major expenditures directly attributable to the Social Sciences and Humanities and Arts programmes and the direct costs of servicing the Canadian National Commission for UNESCO.

General administration comprises all other expenditures of the Council, including those relating to the Special Funds, and the programmes of Cultural Exchange for the Department of External Affairs and the Canadian Cultural Institute in Rome under P.C. 1967-2354. These expenses were recovered to the extent of $3,000 from the Molson Prize Fund, $37,574 from the Izaak Walton Killam Memorial Fund for Advanced Studies and $80,000 from the Department of External Affairs in respect of servicing these funds and Cultural Programmes.

6. Bequests and gifts

The Council has received bequests and gifts as follows:

(i) A bequest of $11,919,615 in cash and securities has been received from the estate of the late Mrs. Dorothy J. Killam for the establishment of "The Izaak Walton Killam Memorial Fund for Advanced Studies" to provide scholarships "for advanced study or research at universities, hospitals, research or scientific institutes, or other equivalent or similar institutions both in Canada and in other countries in any field of study or research other than 'the arts' as presently defined in the Canada Council Act and not limited to the 'humanities and social sciences' referred to in such Act".

The bequest contains the following provisions: that the Killam Trust shall not form part of the Endowment Fund or otherwise be merged with any assets of the Council; and that, in the event the Canada Council should ever be liquidated or its existence terminated or its powers and authority changed so that it is no longer able to administer any Killam Trust, the assets forming the Killam Trust must be paid over to certain universities which have also benefited under the will.

The cash and securities received and the proceeds have been invested in a separate portfolio.

(ii) A gift of approximately $4,350,000 from an anonymous donor (subsequently identified as the late Mrs. Dorothy J. Killam) for the establishment of a Special Scholarship Fund. The gift consists of securities registered in the name of the Canada Council, redeemable over a period of some years. To March 31, 1975, the Council had received proceeds from the redemption of these securities amounting to $1,856,380. These proceeds have been invested in a separate portfolio and the income derived is available to provide fellowship grants to Canadians for advanced study or research in the field of medicine, science and engineering at universities, hospitals, research or scientific institutions or other equivalent or similar institutions in Canada.

(iii) Gifts of $800,000 from the Molson Foundation established a capital fund referred to as the Molson Prize Fund. The income of the Fund is used for making cash prizes to Canadians of outstanding achievement in the fields of the Arts, the Humanities or the Social Sciences that enriches the cultural or intellectual heritage of Canada or contributes to national unity. The value of each prize is $15,000 or as determined by Council, without restriction as to its use by the recipient.

(iv) An unconditional bequest of $699,066 from the estate of the late V.M. Lynch-Staunton established a capital fund, the income from which is available for the regular programmes of the Council.

Watkins, which assets are held in perpetuity by a trust company. The net income is to be used "for the establishment of scholarships to be awarded to graduates of any Canadian University who may apply therefore for the purpose of engaging in post graduate studies in Denmark, Norway, Sweden or Iceland and who shall be selected for their outstanding worth or promise by a committee appointed by the Canada Council". To March 31, 1975, a total of $71,243 has been received, while awards amounted to $59,054 leaving a balance of $12,189.

(vi) A bequest of what may amount to $31,500 made by the late J. B. Barwick. The payment of the bequest is to be postponed during the lifetime of the surviving beneficiary of the residue of the estate. The bequest to the Council is "on condition that such bequest shall be applied for the benefit of the musical division of the arts and for the encouragement of the musical arts to increase the Council's normal budget in the musical division or field of the arts". NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENT
MARCH 31, 1975

1. Accounting policy

The statement of expenditure and revenue includes the activities of the National Museums of Canada as well as those of the Purchase, Trust, and Special Accounts administered by it.

Disbursements of the Corporation's Purchase Account and Special Account are made from the receipts of those accounts and from parliamentary appropriations provided for that purpose. Disbursements of the Corporation's Trust Account are made from the receipts of that account. Included in the reported expenditures of the Corporation are amounts for services provided without charge by other government departments. Other operating and capital expenditures are charged to parliamentary appropriations provided for that purpose.

Expenditures for the year include amounts paid in April 1975 relating to work performed, goods received or services rendered prior to March 31, 1975.

Revenues of the Corporation's Purchase Account, Trust Account and Special Account are reported on a cash basis and are retained in those accounts. Other revenues are reported on a cash basis and are credited to non-tax revenue of Canada in the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

2. Purchase Account

The amount of $4,220,000 transferred from Secretary of State Vote 85 to the Purchase Account included $2,100,000 earmarked for emergency purchases of national treasures. The emergency purchase fund had a balance of $1,336,000 at March 31, 1974 and made purchases during the year of $229,000, leaving a balance of $3,207,000 for future emergency purchases.

3. Restatement of comparative figures

In the previous year the accounting for transactions in the Special Account was on the accrual basis. The 1974 comparative figures have been restated to record the transactions on the modified cash basis described in Note 1.

4. Grants and contributions

Grants and contributions made during the year comprise grants of $4,120,800 and contributions of $3,479,000. Of the contributions, $3,228,000 represented payments made in advance of work done by the recipients and the remaining $251,000 represented reimbursement of costs incurred by the recipients.

5. Additional information

As transactions of the Corporation are reported on the modified cash basis described in Note 1, the following asset and liability balances are not reflected in the financial statement.

Accounts payable–general	$391,000
Accounts payable–Special Account	$ 40,000
Accounts receivable–Special Account	$ 14,000
Inventories–Special Account	$716,000

AUDITOR GENERAL OF CANADA
Ottawa.

August 7, 1975.

MR. GEORGE IGNATIEFF,
CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES,
NATIONAL MUSEUMS OF CANADA,
OTTAWA, ONTARIO.
K1A 0M8

Dear Mr. Ignatieff:

I have examined the statement of expenditure and revenue of the National Museums of Canada for the year ended March 31, 1975. My examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion the statement of expenditure and revenue gives a true and fair view of the results of the operations of the Corporation for the year ended March 31, 1975, in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Such principles were applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year, after giving retroactive effect to the change in accounting treatment described in Note 3 to the financial statements.

As noted in my 1974 report and as referred to in Note 4 to these financial statements, grants and contributions include payments which were made in advance of need. They must, therefore, be considered as being accountable advances and subject to Treasury Board Circular 1971/18 of March 1, 1971 which states:

> "Where contributions involve reimbursements to recipients, agreements may allow for the making of progress payments or accountable advances to the recipients."

However, the agreements of the Corporation with the recipients, covering certain disbursements in the current and preceding fiscal years have made no provision for the making of such advances and I, therefore, regard them as having been made without proper authority.

The Corporation, which reported the advances as expenditures at the time they were made, is taking action to ensure that it receives an appropriate accounting from the recipients concerning the disposition of the funds. New procedures were adopted during the year to ensure that further grants and contributions are made only with proper authority.

I further report that, in my opinion, proper books of account have been kept by the Corporation, the financial statement is in agreement therewith and except for the matter described in the two preceding paragraphs, the transactions that have come under my notice have been within its statutory powers.

Yours sincerely,

J.J. MACDONELL
Auditor General of Canada

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS MARCH 31, 1975

1. Accounting policies
   a) Year-end cut-off
   The records of the revolving fund are maintained on an accrual basis. The financial statements show the balance of the working capital advance account as at March 31, 1975, in accordance with the instructions contained in Treasury Board Circular No. 1970–7. This differed from the treatment of this item in prior years, when the cash received in the first month of the following year was included as a reduction of the balances of both the accounts receivable and working capital advance accounts. For comparative purposes the balances of both of these accounts for 1974 have been recast.
   b) Prepaid expenses
   The stock of repair parts for equipment has been transferred from inventory of material and supplies to prepaid expenses; the 1974 figures have been recast for comparison.
   c) Capital assets
   The cost of capital assets includes assets valued at $137,185, which is the cost to the revolving fund of assets transferred from the National Film Board at net book value at the inception of the fund in 1972. Depreciation is charged to operations on a straight line basis at a rate of 10% per annum. In previous years the practice was to charge no depreciation in the year of acquisition, and a full year's depreciation in the year of disposal. Commencing in 1975 depreciation was charged in the year of acquisition, on a pro-rata basis, based on the month of acquisition, thus bringing the cost of usage more in line with the period of usage. This change increased the depreciation charged to operations in 1975 by $2,575; no adjustment was made to prior years figures.
   d) Common services
   No adjustment was made to the cost of operations to reflect the cost of common services provided by other departments or agencies for which they levied no charge.
   e) Interest on advances
   Interest on the working capital advance was calculated at the rate of 7¾% per annum, based on the monthly month-end general ledger balance of the account, including cash deposited during the month whether or not it had been transferred to the credit of the account in the Central Accounts of Canada.
   f) Expense distributions
   To provide a more descriptive expense allocation some changes have been made to expense account distributions for 1975. For comparative purposes the 1974 figures have been recast accordingly.
   g) Prior years' adjustment
   The opening balance of the deficit account in 1974 has been adjusted to take into account the amount of $34,115 previously shown on the 1974 statement of operations as a prior years' adjustment.

2. Loans to finance the acquisition of capital assets
   Details of authorizations and expenditures are as follows:

Year	Vote and Appropriation Act	Amount Authorized	Amount Spent
1971-72	Secretary of State Vote L85, Appropriation Act No. 3, 1971 1970-71-72, c. 46	$100,000	$ 1,982
1972-73	Secretary of State Vote L80 Appropriation Act No. 3, 1972, 1972, c. 15	75,000	33,077
1973-74	Secretary of State Vote L75, Appropriation Act No. 4, 1973, 1973-74, c. 16	75,000	12,533
			47,592
	Less: Repayment in 1974-75		4,759
			42,833
1974-75	Secretary of State Vote L75, Appropriation Act No. 3, 1974	75,000	73,547
			$116,380

   In accordance with the requirements of the legislation the Treasury Board has prescribed an interest rate of 7 1/8 % per annum on all of the above loans made prior to 1974-75, together with repayment terms of ten equal annual instalments of $4,759 commencing in 1974-75. No terms and conditions have yet been prescribed by the Treasury Board for the 1974-75 loan.

3. Deficit
   Authority will be requested in 1975-76 Supplementary Estimates to recover the 1975 deficit through a charge to an expenditure vote of the Secretary of State.

AUDITOR GENERAL OF CANADA
Ottawa, Ontario

September 12, 1975.

THE HONOURABLE J. HUGH FAULKNER, P.C., M.P.,
SECRETARY OF STATE,
OTTAWA.

Dear Mr. Faulkner,

I have examined the balance sheet of the Canadian Government Photo Centre Revolving Fund as at March 31, 1975 and the statement of operations for the year then ended. My examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion, these financial statements give a true and fair view of the financial position of the Fund as at March 31, 1975 and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applied, except for changes mentioned in Note 1 regarding the method of calculation of depreciation and the change in closing date of the working capital advance, on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

I further report that, in my opinion, proper books of account have been kept by the Canadian Government Photo Centre Revolving Fund, the financial statements are in agreement therewith and, except that the amount of $450,000 authorized by Parliament as the maximum working capital advance outstanding at any one time has been exceeded during eight months of the year, the transactions that have come under my notice have been within its statutory powers.

Yours sincerely,

J. J. MACDONELL
Auditor General of Canada.

Annuity, insurance and pension accounts -- Royal Canadian Mounted Police Superannuation Account, Section 25 of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Superannuation Act, R.S., c. R-11, requires that at least once in every five years an actuarial report on the state of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Superannuation Account be laid before Parliament.

On May 17, 1972, a report was tabled showing that an actuarial deficit of $81,000 existed in the Account at December 31, 1969, after making allowances for the amended formula for integration of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Superannuation Plan benefits with benefits under the Canada Pension Plan. However, no amount was credited to the Account in accordance with section 24(4) of the Act as the actuaries were of the opinion that this situation will correct itself prior to the next valuation.

Dear Mr. Allmand,

In compliance with the requirements of section 55 of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Pension Continuation Act I have examined the statement of transactions of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (Dependants) Pension Fund for the year ended March 31, 1975.
